we're a team . . .

Classes and lunch are only two of the various activities that form a day at CHS. The Academic Team, Student Council and Trojan Staff among other organizations can be found hard at work throughout the day. Establishing pride in our school and its people was a common goal for the members of the student body.

One of Carolina's own remarked about school changes over the twenty-five years of the school's existence. Mrs. Pat Green, a 1959 graduate of CHS said, "There was absolutely no smoking on school grounds and no hand-holding was allowed.

Rules and regulations were much stricter, but this caused the students, to have more respect for the administration and faculty." Teachers, students and the school may change, but the general sense of pride for Carolina will never change.

variety — the spice of life

Carolina High School — Over one thousand students come from September to May, each with their own individual goals and ideas. Some come for the classes such as Algebra, A.P., and Western Civ. — others for art, music and D.E.. Some focus on Athletics. Carolina is a varied school with different objects of interests. Despite this vast variety, attending Carolina unites students into a single student body, sharing common concerns and goals.

we're proud . . .

We're Proud . . .

The sacrifices our athletic teams put forth, not only on Friday nights but in practicing hard everyday — makes us proud.

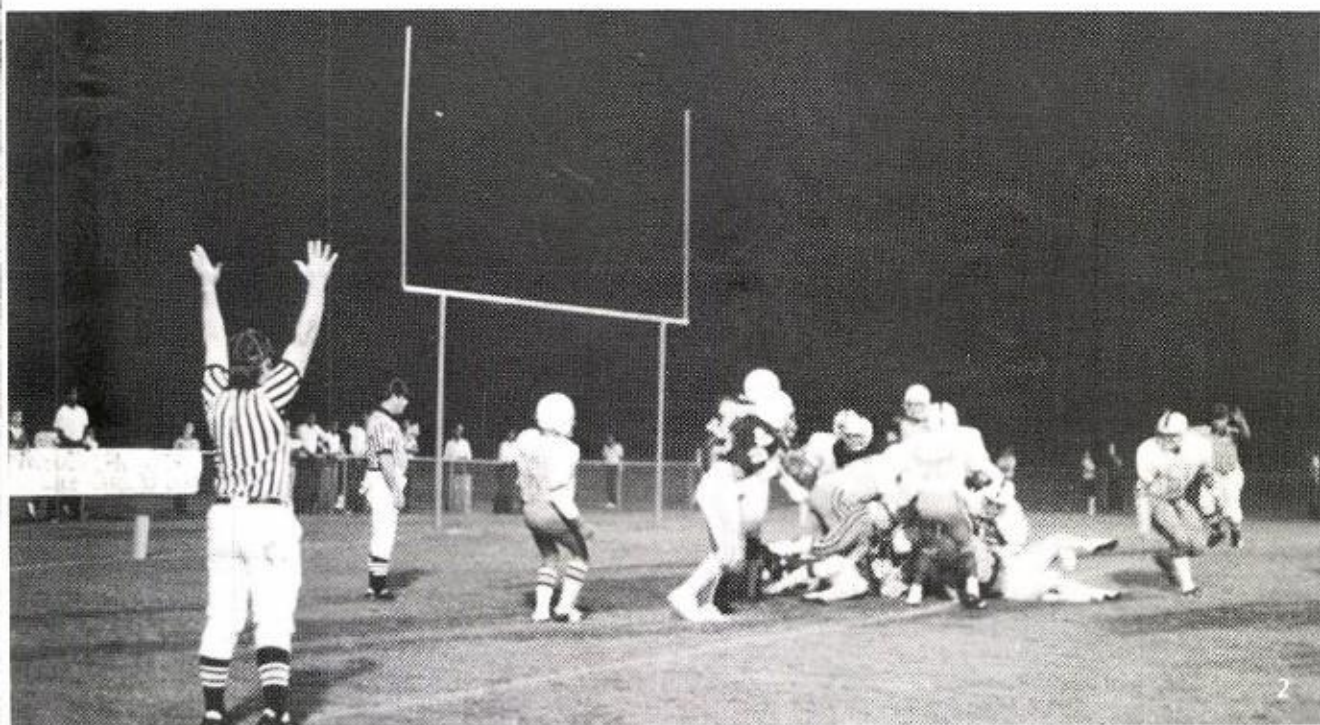

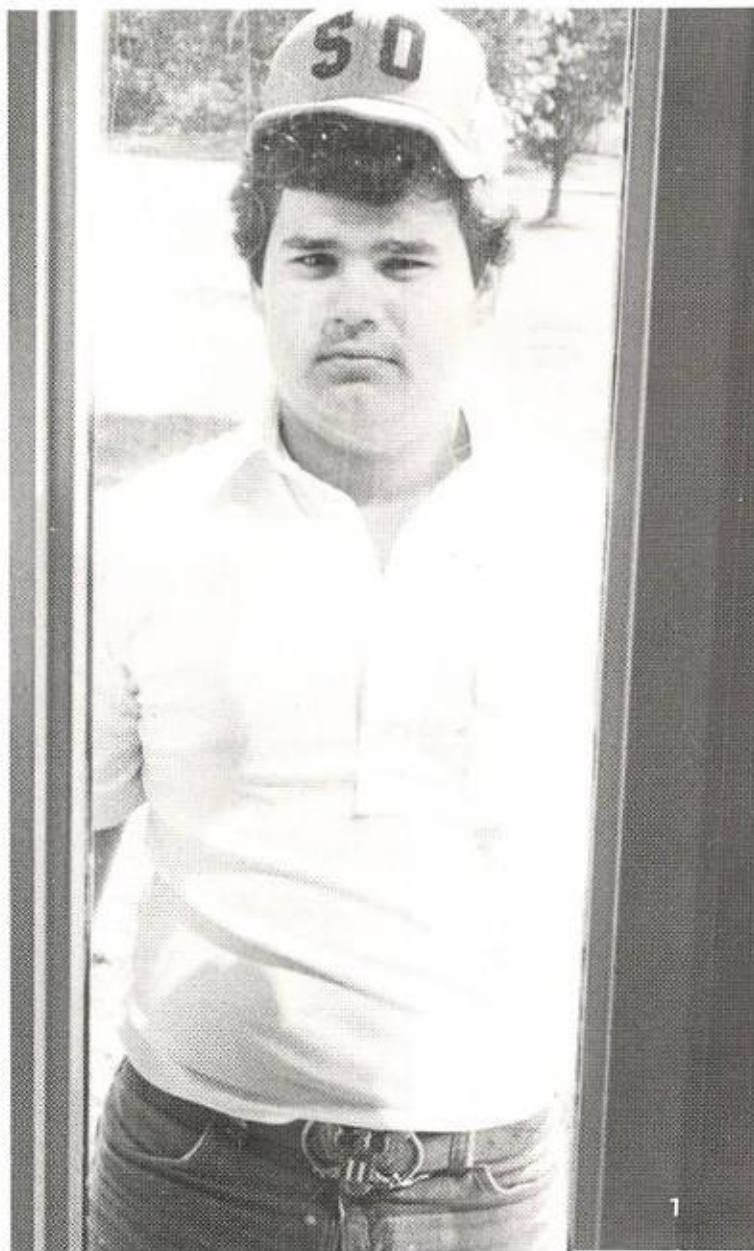

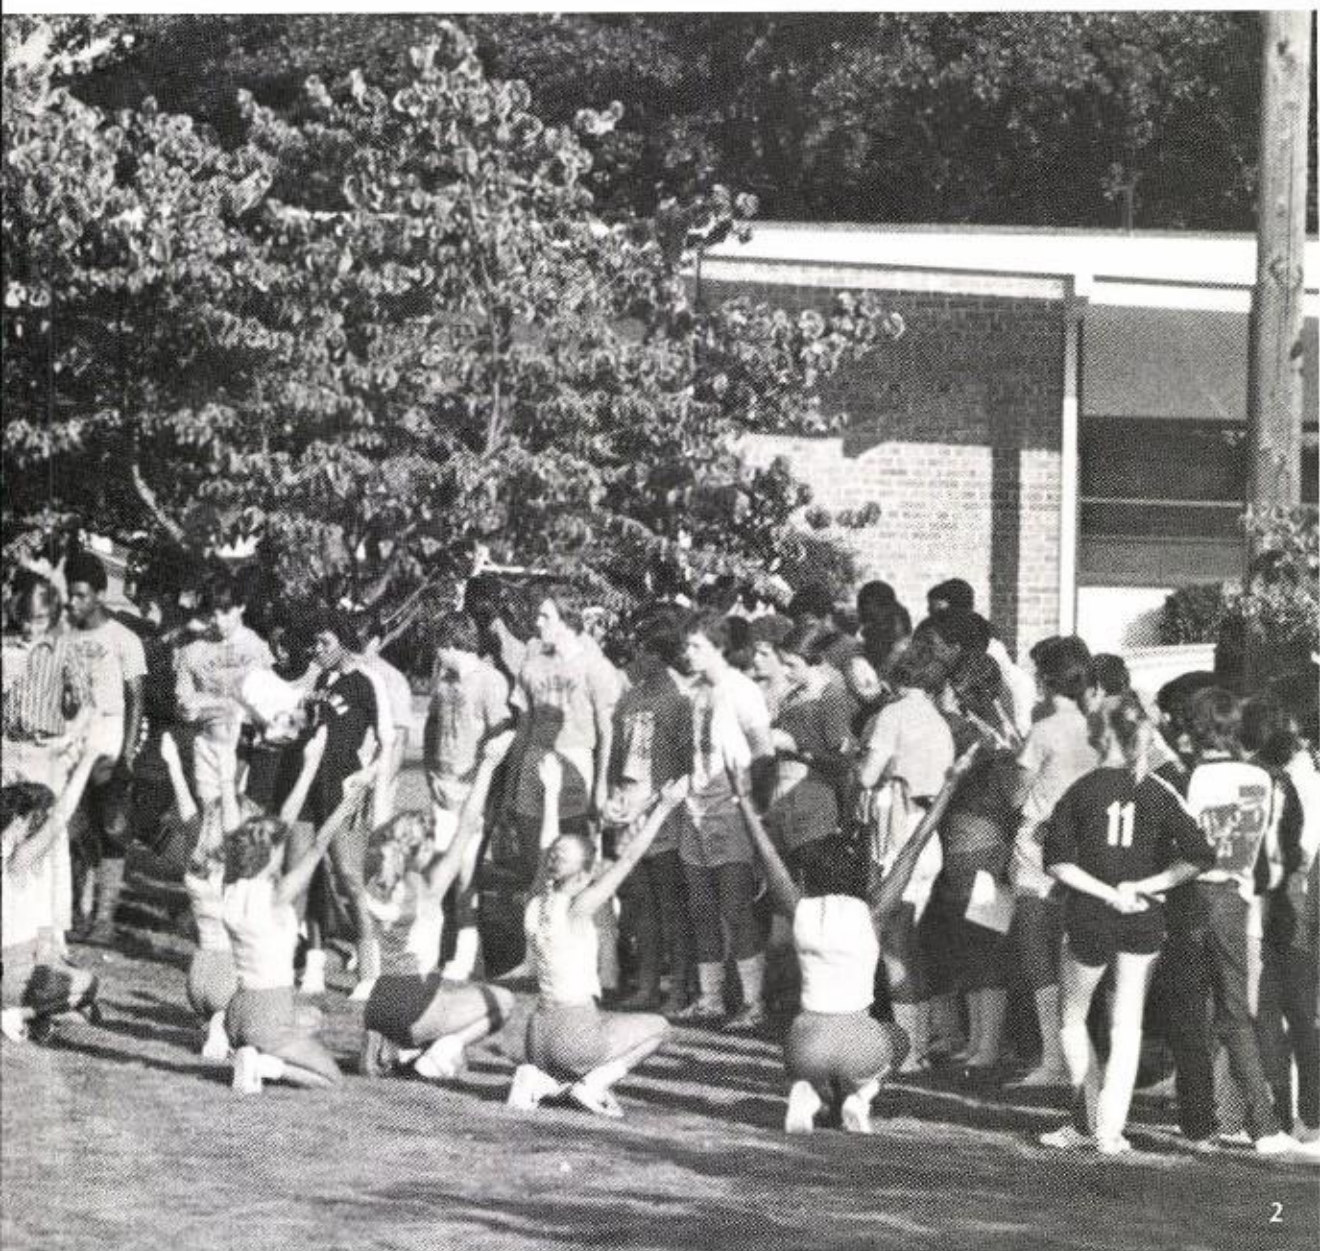

The support from cheerleaders, fans and the faculty displays true spirit in every sense of the word.

Not only athletically but academically... We've got a strong Academic Team and a hard-working National Honor Society. They work — push themselves — and also sacrifice for what they want — for themselves and for their school.

Each Individual person . . . the goals he sets — what he strives for and what he believes in.

We're Proud!

Being a senior is tough! It's not easy to be the leaders of an entire school and still set a good example for adoring underclassmen! Yet in spite of all these tensions and pressures, being a senior does have its finer points.

Among these are senior bells for lunch, the senior parking lot, and graduation! All the hard-work, and the minor goals that have built up over the school years converge, adding to the joy of graduation, the crowning accomplishment of student life.

twenty-five years of academics

Mr. Joe Robert Crouch, currently the principal of Welcome Elementary School, taught at Carolina High School between 1960 and 1968. He remembers the faculty at Carolina seemed to get along quite well. That hasn't changed. Mr. Crouch noted several things that have changed over the years.

The most noticeable changes have been the school building itself. The first and fourth wings were added in the mid-1960's. The Auto Mechanics shop was also added then.

Although Mr. Crouch has lost touch with much that goes on here, he still keeps up with the football scores. People like Mr. Joe Robert Crouch have played a part in Carolina's interesting and varied history.

dedication

She has been a teacher at Carolina for four years and has already contributed to Carolina's past. Three of her four years at CHS she has dedicated to the yearbook as advisor.

She has helped coach the Academic Team and has also been an English department chairman. For the 1981-82 school year she was voted teacher of the year at Carolina. Both students and teachers respect her judgment and treasure her friendship. Being a teacher and a friend takes a very special person.

The Silver Anniversary Volume of the Carolinian is dedicated to Mrs. Nancy Zende for her concern, encouragement, and overall participation in school activities.

special recognition

Being an advisor for the Trojan, teaching English, working students hard and being a cut-up is part of this lady's daily activities.

Because of her contribution to the school and overall good personality, the Carolinian Staff wishes to give Mrs. Joan Scripture special recognition.

Counseling at Carolina High School takes a dedicated worker and friend. The job requires helping students solve their problems with classes, college, and future plans.

The Carolinian Staff wishes to give Mrs. Barbara Seaborn special recognition for all her time, effort, and thoughtfulness. We really appreciate this lovely lady.

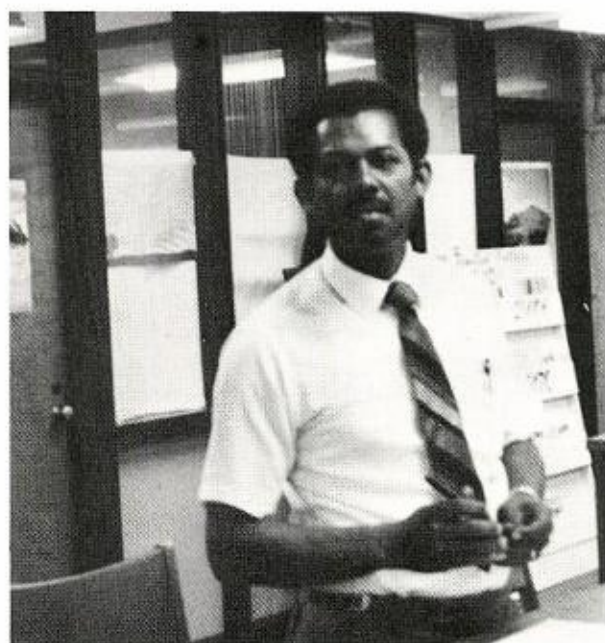

Teaching the A.P. English Class and coaching the Academic Team takes a lot out of a person, but somehow he finds time to take a coffee break with Mrs. Zende.

In 1980 he was chosen as a finalist in the teacher of the year contest in Greenville County. In the past he was the NHS sponsor and newspaper adviser.

Because of his involvement, the Carolinian Staff wishes to give Mr. James Garrick special recognition.

administration

Mr. Jesse Beck settled into his second year as principal at Carolina High School after having spent several years here as assistant principal. During his years in both capacities, Mr. Beck has always maintained an approachable posture to students and teachers alike. He has always been willing to discuss problems and offer solutions. In dealing with students, parents, and teachers he maintained a cool head when the tempers of others flared.

Assistant principals Mickey Long and Billie McGaha shared the responsibility for discipline this year. Mr. Long handled class cutting, building maintenance, lunch duty and other responsibilities while Ms. McGaha worked with curriculum, books, and scheduling. This was Ms. McGaha's first year at Carolina. She came to us from Eastside High School. She has been a welcome addition to our administration.

support staff

Office workers, lunchroom personnel, and bus drivers are staff members who do a great deal for the students here at CHS. Mrs. Wade and Mrs. Green help keep the front office in order, while Mrs. Turner handles the early dismissals in the fourth wing office. Mrs. Brown aids the sick students in the healthroom. Bus drivers see that elementary, middle, and high school students have transportation to and from school.

The lunchroom is brightened by these fine ladies.

guidance

Mrs. Seaborn

Mrs. Mills

Mr. Sexton

Mrs. Flatt

Mrs. Channell

When you have a personal problem or just problems, the guidance office is where you should go for a solution. We have three guidance counsellors: Mrs. Barbara Seaborn with the senior class and half of the freshman class, Mrs. Linda Mills with the sophomore class and the special education classes, and Mr. Carl Sexton with the junior class and half of the freshman class. Mrs. Channell and Mrs. Flatt work together to keep the attendance records straight.

Mrs. Hix

Mrs. West

Mrs. Crosby

The library is a very important place to research information for any kind of report. Students who can't find what they are looking for turn to Mrs. Hix, Mrs. West, or Mrs. Crosby for aid. There are also books in the library for leisure reading. In all, there are over 12,795 books currently in the CHS library.

social studies

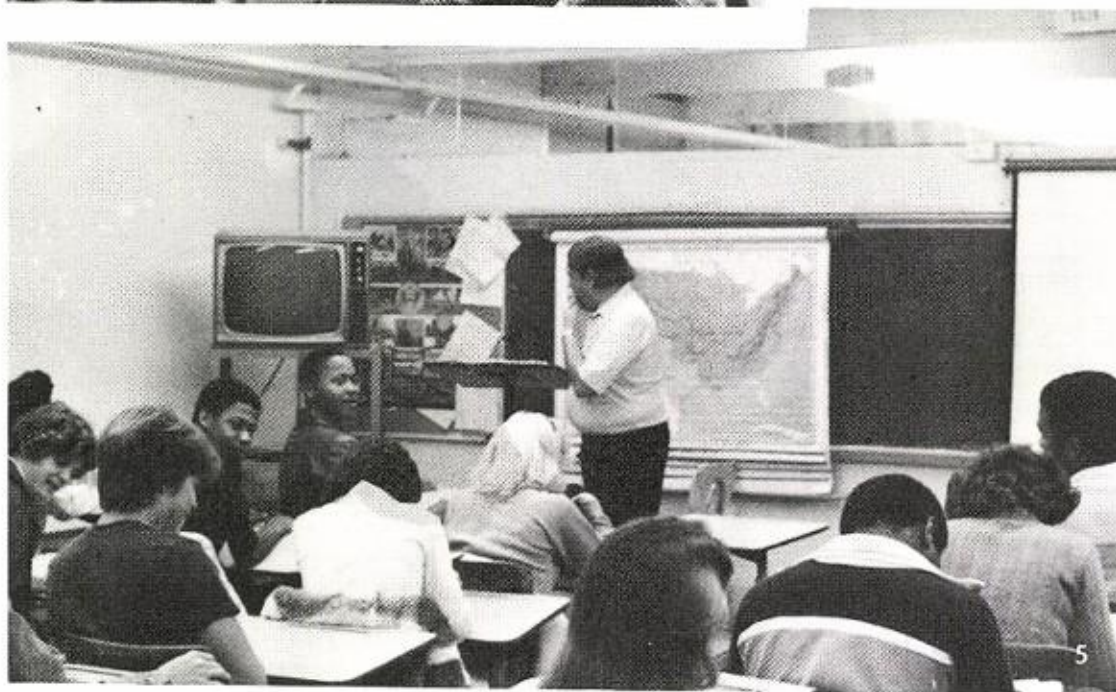

Mr. Wilson

Mr. Snellings

Mr. Oliver

Mrs. Scripture

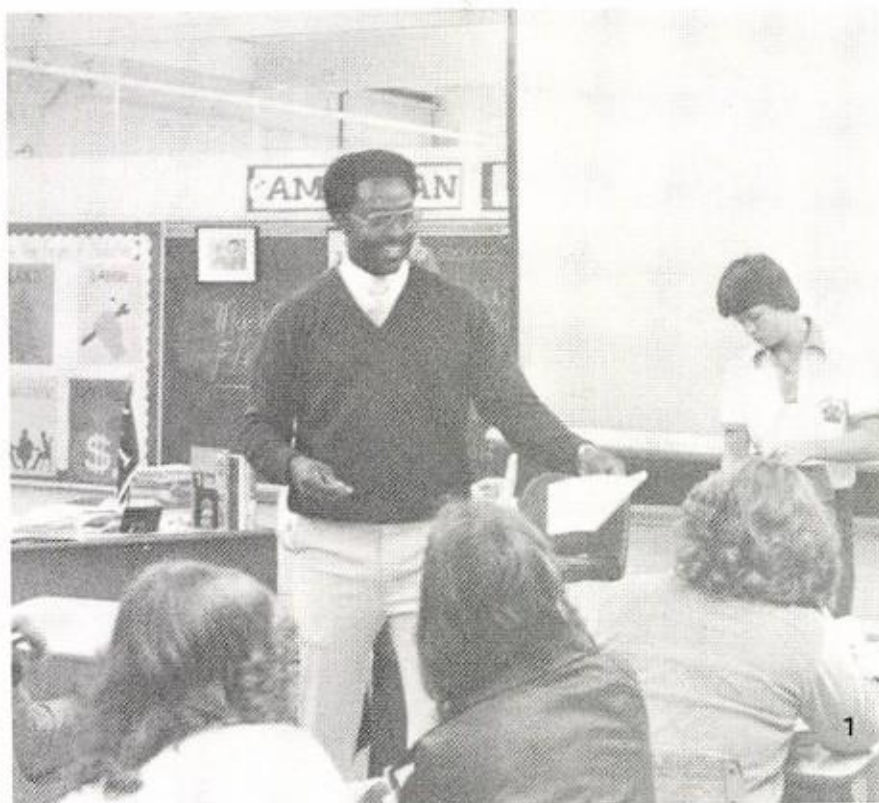

The social studies department offered Current Events this year in addition to courses in government, economics, history, geography, sociology, and psychology. Mrs. Washington served as department chairman this year. The department's job of teaching students to understand and live in our world was an important one.

math

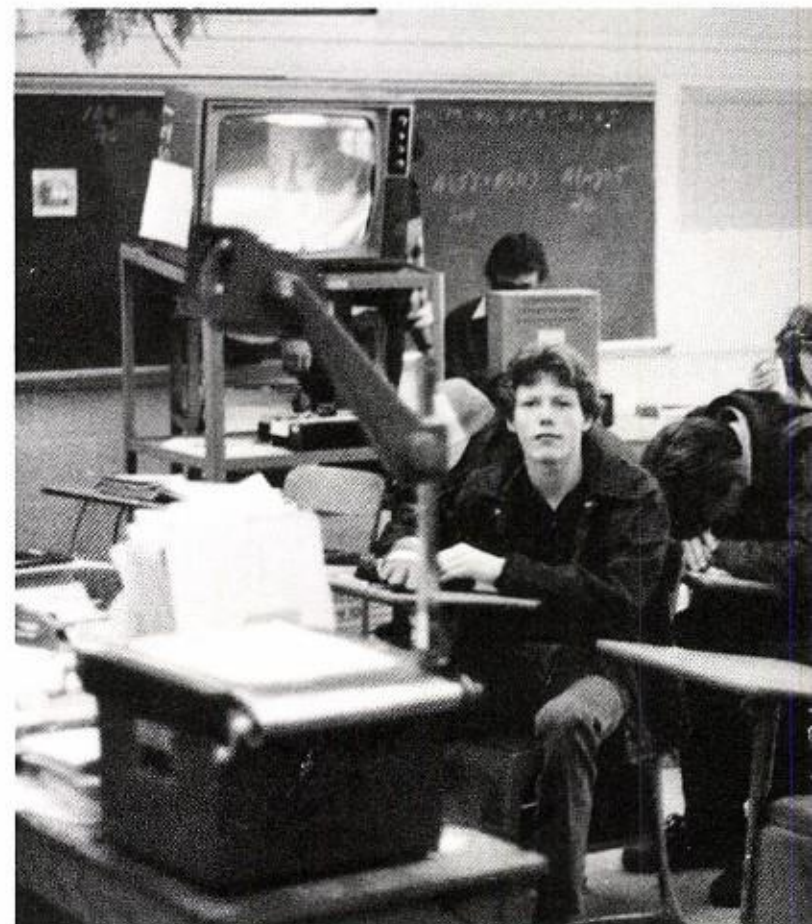

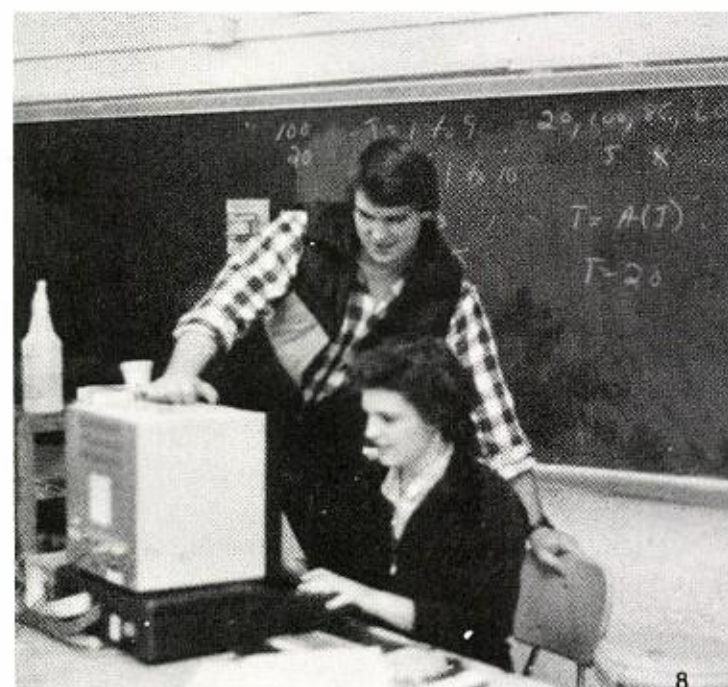

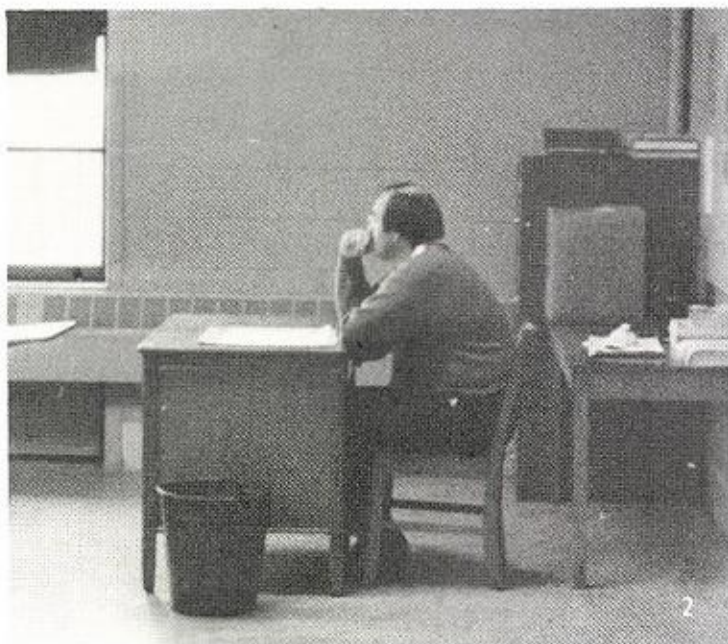

Mrs. Richardson

Mr. Gilstrap

Mr. Foster

Mrs. Hopkins

Mrs. Mainous

The math department opened the 81-82 school year with triumphs and disappointments. The department introduced Computer Math and offered pre-Calculus & Trigonometry for a second year. With these fine courses and others, the math department was headed for one of its better years. A major disappointment was the departure of one its best teachers, Mr. William Dilling. Despite this setback, the math department kept going.

foreign language

Mrs. Johnston

Mrs. Susan Johnston is the sole member of the foreign language department as Spanish language and culture teacher. Caroling for other classes at Christmas time was one of the many activities Spanish classes enjoyed. It would be beneficial to the school program if more students would take foreign language courses.

1. Volleyball is often played in gym class.

donaldson vocational center

Donaldson Vocational Center is the training school for most of the 11th and 12th graders who want to take up a trade. Donaldson has many happenings going on. The Vica Club is the main activity. They also show films on certain subjects to the whole school and have little get-togethers with refreshments provided by the food service class.

Many people come to visit Donaldson and discuss the students' futures and what they will be doing. Greenville Technical College sends some people over to talk with students about going to Tec and taking up such trades as drafting, welding, and carpentry.

Whether Donaldson students go on to further educational institutions or to jobs, the vocational center plays an important part in preparing them for the world of work.

1. Drafting students, like Lee McGee, use a variety of instruments in their work.

2. This tangle of wire only looks confusing. Electricity students Jeff Mantooth is learning to untangle any electrical problem.

3. Kip Ervin and associates take a breather to inspect their work.

4. By his second year in the heating and air conditioning program, Fritz Dogan has developed a close rapport with instructor Mr. Moon.

5. Two years in the auto mechanics program has revealed many of the mysteries of the internal combustion engine to Kim Page.

fine arts center

The fine arts center draws students from fifteen area high schools for the purpose of developing talent and skills in specific areas. these areas are art, dance, voice, piano, strings, creative writing and film/video.

the school offers two classes a day in each area, with each class consisting of 1½ hours teaching time. This year Carolina had seventeen students commuting to the fine arts center daily.

the school is the only one of its kind in the south. For this reason the school is planning expansion so that it can make its facilities available to more students.

1. At times, even vocal students like Julie Turner must listen rather than sing.

2. The film/video program acquaints Sonya Branthem with a variety of equipment most TV watchers never see.

3. The extreme discipline involved in formal dancing is demonstrated by Tracey Powell.

4. Fine arts center students board the bus to return "home" to Carolina.

5. The camera captures Dana McGhee in a solo movement as she performs before her classmates.

6. Another vocal student, Patti Nelson, is representing Carolina at the fine arts center.

Miss Simmons

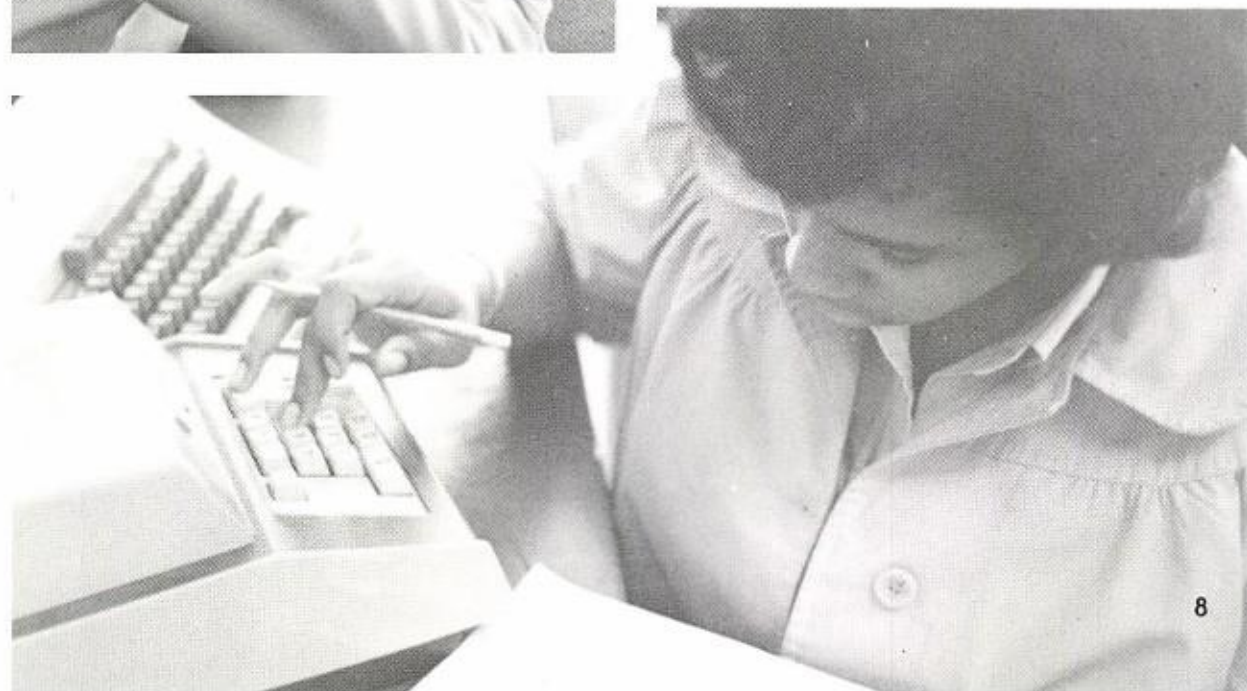

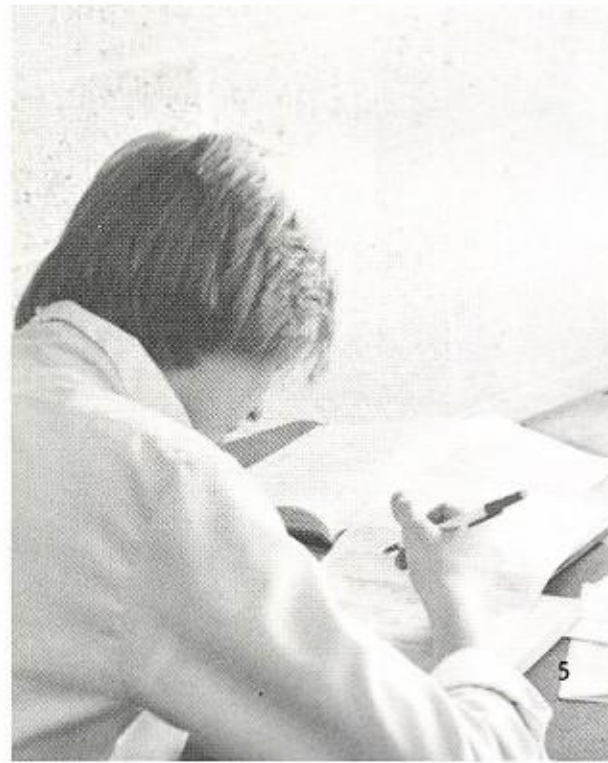

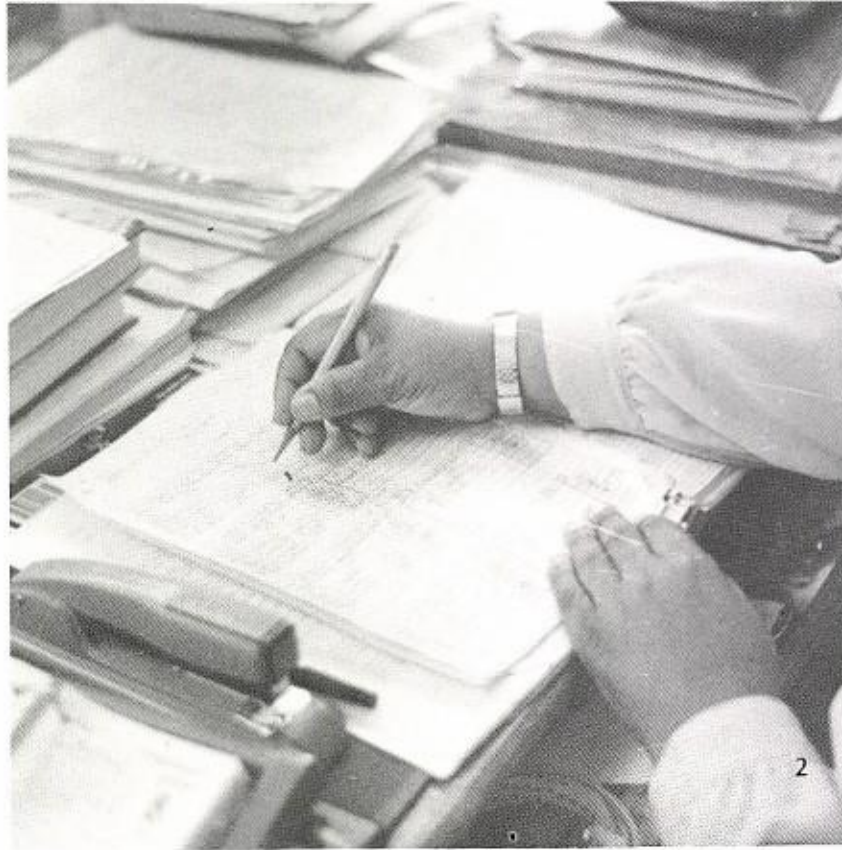

Miss Lowe

Mrs. Hamilton

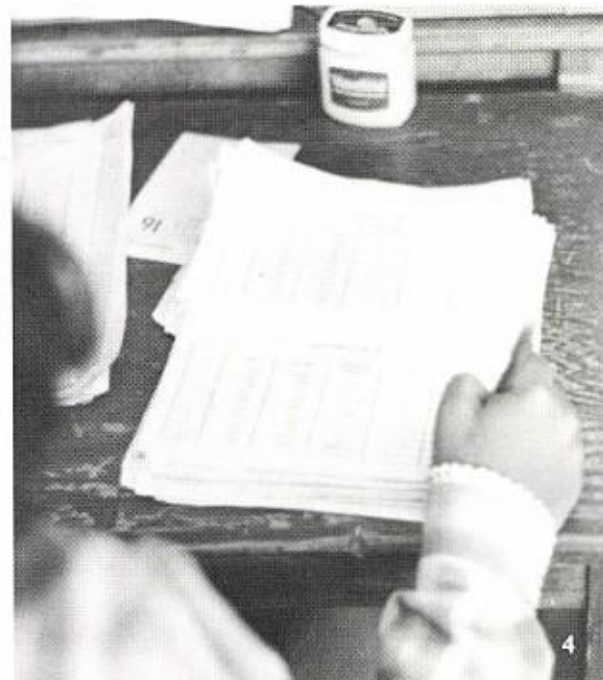

Mrs. Edwards

Business classes stayed busy. The far end of third wing was always lively with the sound of business machines and typewriters. faculty interaction

Teachers at Carolina are a dedicated friendly, and enthusiastic group as a whole. Many of our faculty members give freely of their own time to sponsor school functions. One of the few times the staff meets as a group, is at Wednesday afternoon faculty meetings. Smaller groups meet during their planning periods. The time that faculty members share proves to be enriching as well as relaxing.

1. Faculty members look forward to their regular Wednesday afternoon meetings.
2. Mrs. Edwards gives Mrs. Young advice about her crosswork.

1957-1982: Carolina High school began with the combining of three area high schools; Welcome, West Gantt, and Wesseville. This meant a lot of adjustments for sports-oriented students.

One of these students was Jimmy Gentry, 1957 football and basketball captain. His athletic excellence played a big part in Carolina's sports program. He remarked about changes he felt had occurred in the past twenty-five years:

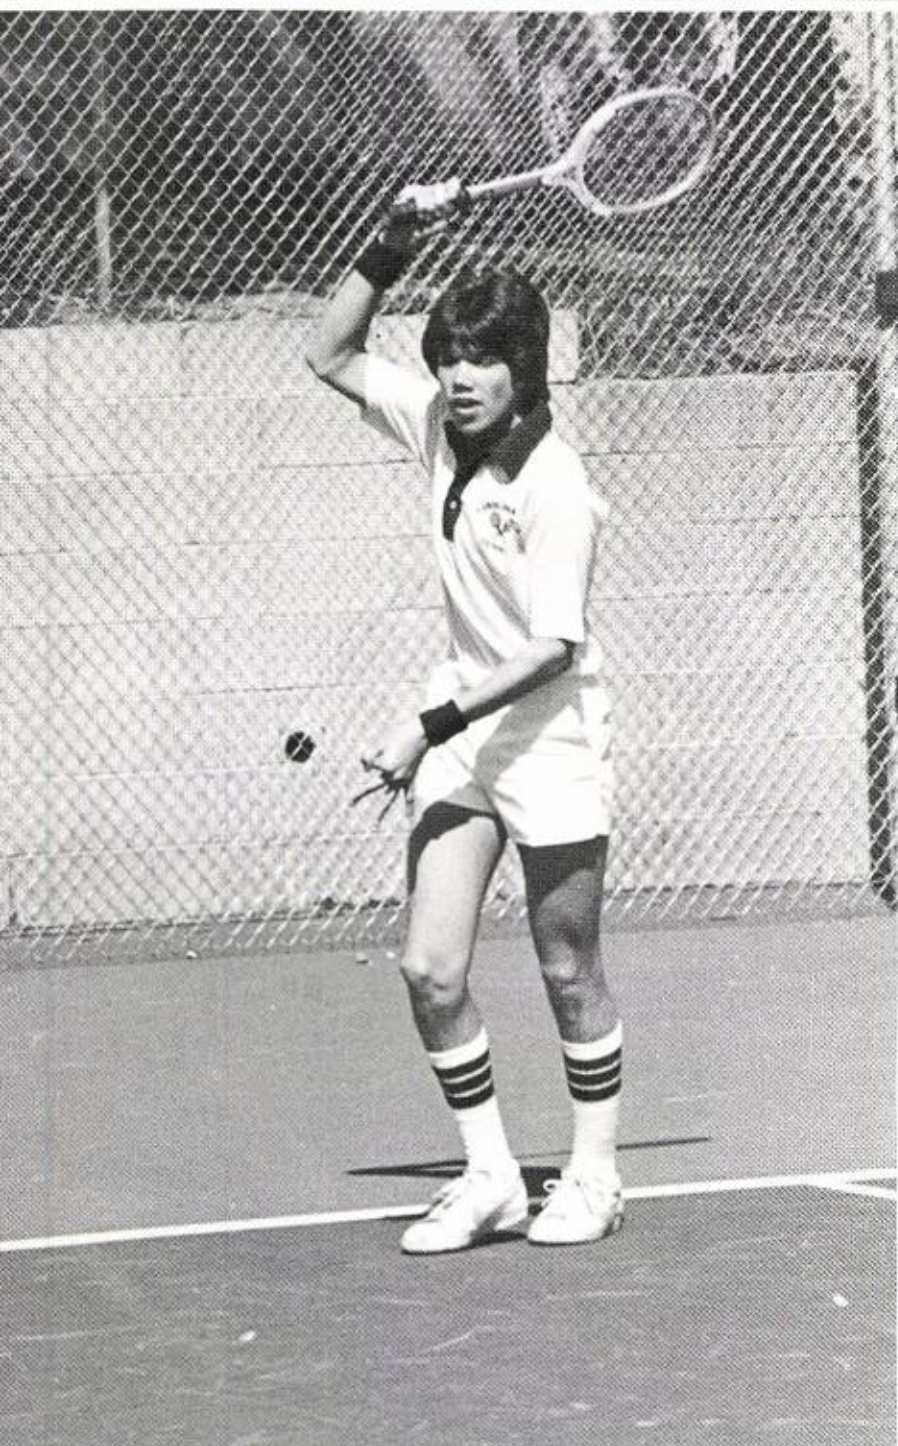

"A stronger sense of dedication was present in players. Teens, these days, are not as willing to sacrifice fun to bring their athletic talent to its full potential. Also, the teams seemed more united and set toward one goal."

Concerning spirit . . . "Pep Rallies and bon fires were weekly events. This stirred up a lot of school spirit and pride. Now days events of this sort are limited and this cuts down on the spirit and pride found in the student body."

The sports program at Carolina has been an outlet in which students can take pride, in each of the twenty-five years of the school's existence.

4. Now Coach Martin, you shouldn't have said that.

For the second year in a row the Trojan football team was under the helm of a new coach. After coaching at Dixie High School, Coach Alex Martin came to take the head coaching job here at Carolina. Although the team's record ended with 4 wins and 6 losses, the team adjusted to his procedures well.

hitting hard . . .

At the beginning of the season, the Trojans were billed as the "mystery team of the county", but when the Trojans defeated Riverside 19-0, all doubts were removed. The team continued the season with a win over Southside and disappointing losses to Pickens and Travelers Rest. In the next two games, the Trojans traded a win over Woodmont with a loss to Palmetto. After the Homecoming victory over Greenville, the Trojans lost their last three ball-games. Although four out of their six losses were very close, one of them was particularly close.

Berea blocked a field-goal attempt and scored a safety, they went home victorious with a score of 9-6. The Trojan team seemed to feel that they had been cheated in some way, yet they continued.

The hopes and dreams had all been crushed, but the memories will always be there. Just like all the teams in the past at Carolina, this year's team will have the memories of the "Friday Night Game"! No one can ever take those memories away . . . ever.

Sore muscles and hard breathing didn't stop these two teams from playing with their best ability. The seniors experience helped them to excel to the end, while the juniors inexperience proved to be a great handicap. The seniors showed great improvement since last year but the juniors got the experience they needed for next year's game. The girls got only a slight taste of what goes into a game of football, but let's just say, "Guys do it better!"

spiking it over

Having lost six players from the 1980 squad, four of which were starters, this was definitely a rebuilding year for the Lady Trojans. Only two seniors, Kim Miles, hitter, and Elaina Marshall, setter, returned from last year's starting team. However, with a 16-13 regular season record and a third place conference finish, this young team compiled more wins this season than any team in the four years of volleyball at Carolina. The success of this season was largely due to the hard work in off-season and pre-season of this group of athletes. With one junior, six sophomores, and six freshman returning, a strong, experienced nucleus remains for the next season.

down the court . . .

The 1981-82 Varsity Basketball Team began the season with high expectations. In a pre-season poll, the Trojans were predicted to finish second in the Saluda Valley Conference. It was up to the team to prove it.

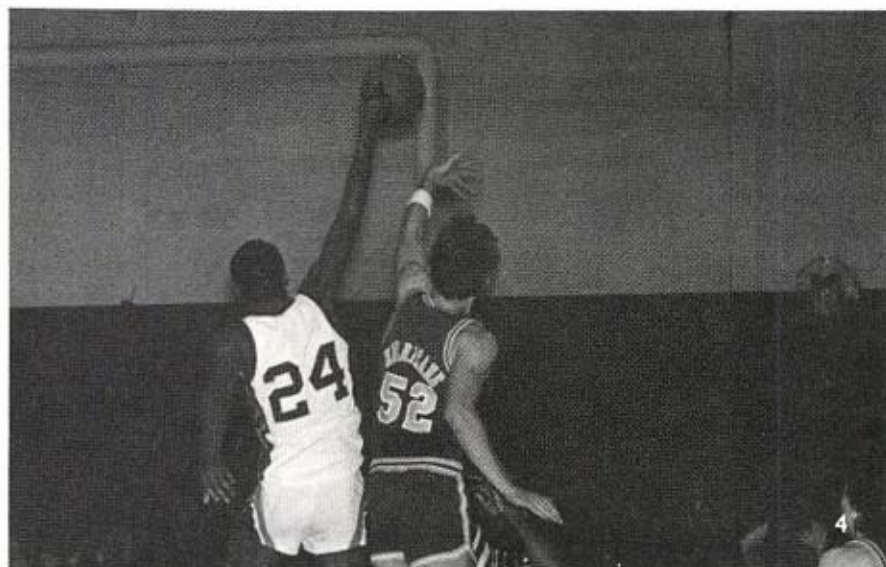

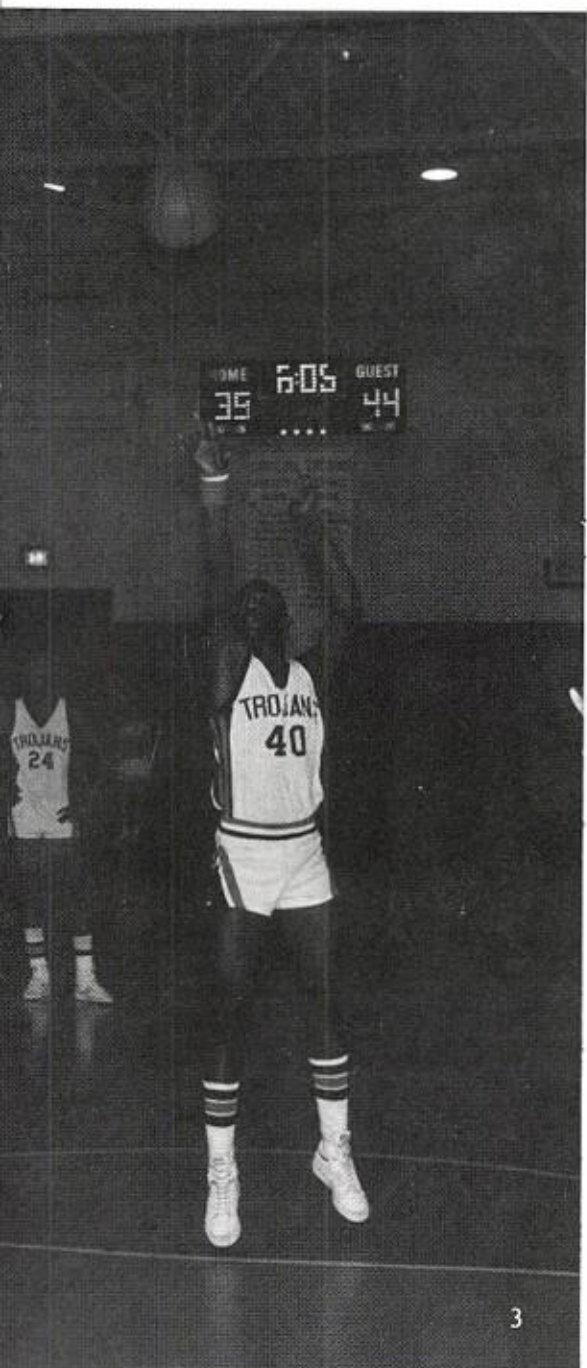

Their first goal was to win the Greenville Christmas Tournament, one that had eluded Carolina's grasp for many years. The Trojans finished a close second in the tournament and began to open a lot of coaches' eyes.

After this occurrence, though, the Trojans hit a bumpy road that they would not get off for the rest of the season. The team seemed to trade a win for a loss; some times, the cagers showed brilliance, while at others, they showed little of anything. The season seemed to be one of surprise and intrigue.

As a result of the "win for loss" season, the Trojans finished in the middle of the conference with a decent record. Even though the season was not a perfect one, we were proud of our Trojans.

the lady trojans

The 1981-82 Varsity Girls Basketball team started the season with an impressive team effort in the Zonta Classic. After finishing third in the tournament, the girls began a struggle for a conference title. The girls, under the leadership of Coach Betty Moore, proved to be a worthy opponent for the other teams in the conference. This group of ladies has held together a totally balanced team throughout the entire season. Many of our girls' games ended in overtime and a few in double overtime. Our girls were always high spirited at all times, no matter how bad a defeat they suffered. The Lady Trojans certainly met all the expectations of their fans.

This year's J. V. boys were winners in many ways. While under the direction of Coach Charles Davis, the boys were not only winners on the scoreboard, which was obvious, but they were also winners in spirit and character. When these three things are combined, the result is a great team with a great future.

The purpose of having a Junior Varsity team is to prepare athletes for Varsity team by giving them experience and practice. Even though the girls were under the direction of several different coaches, they did gain experience and knowledge they need to play good basketball.

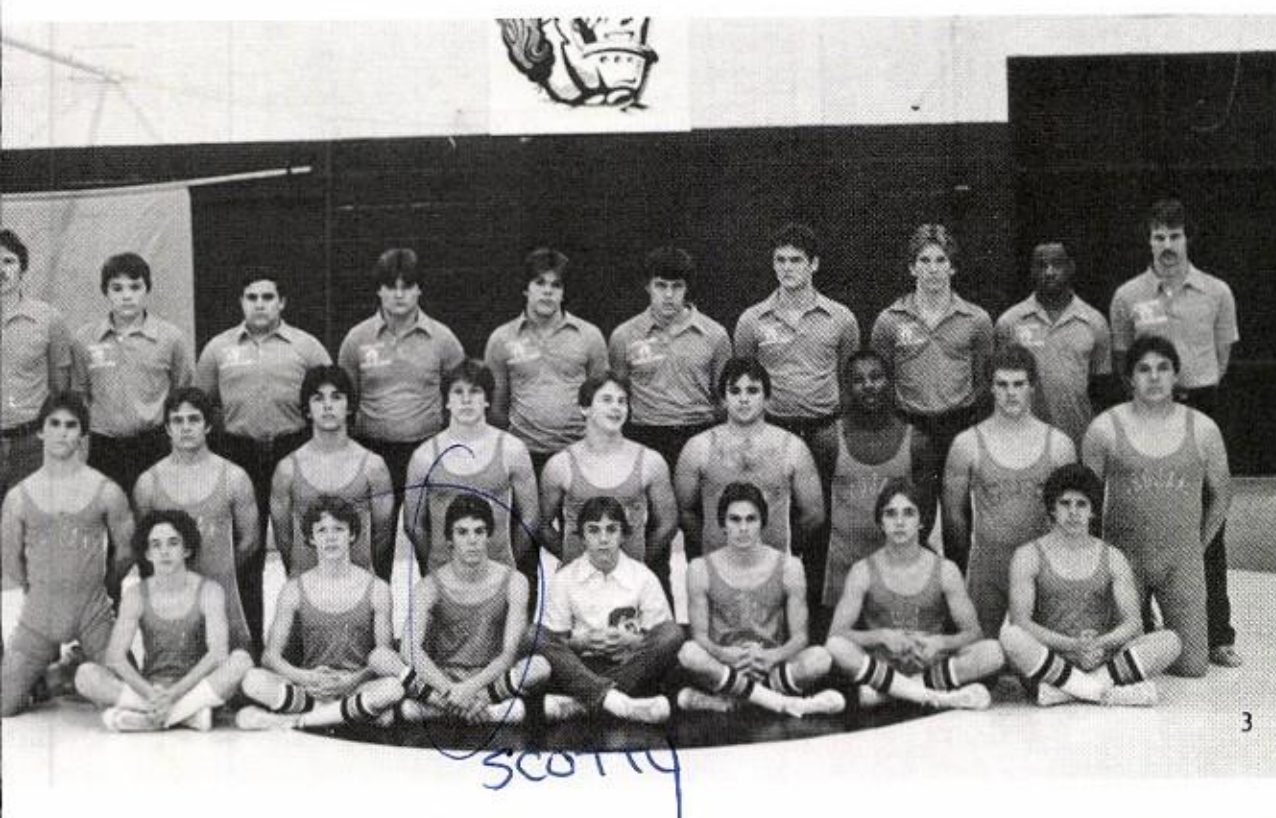

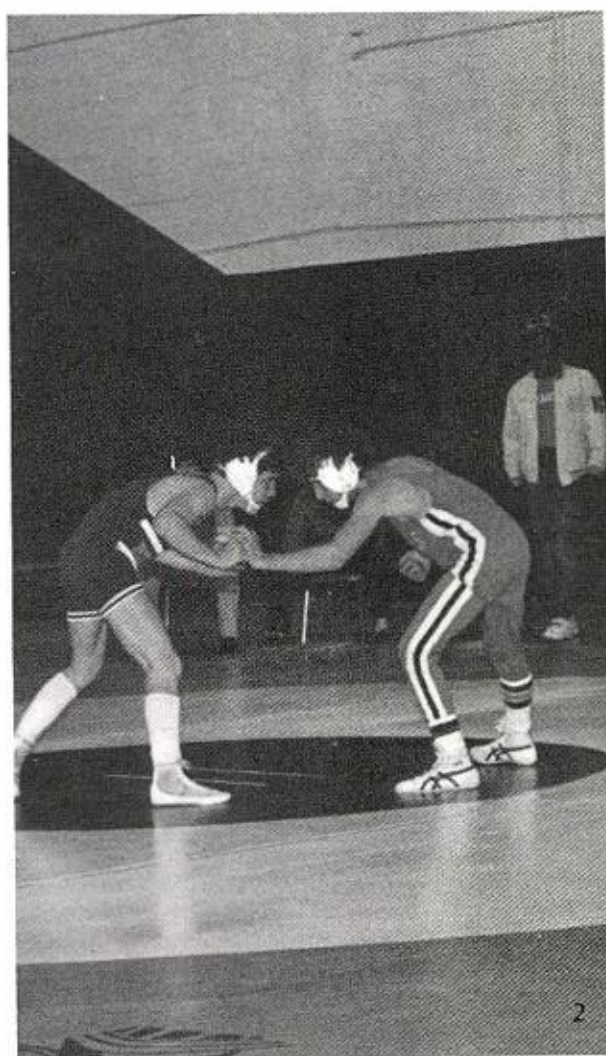

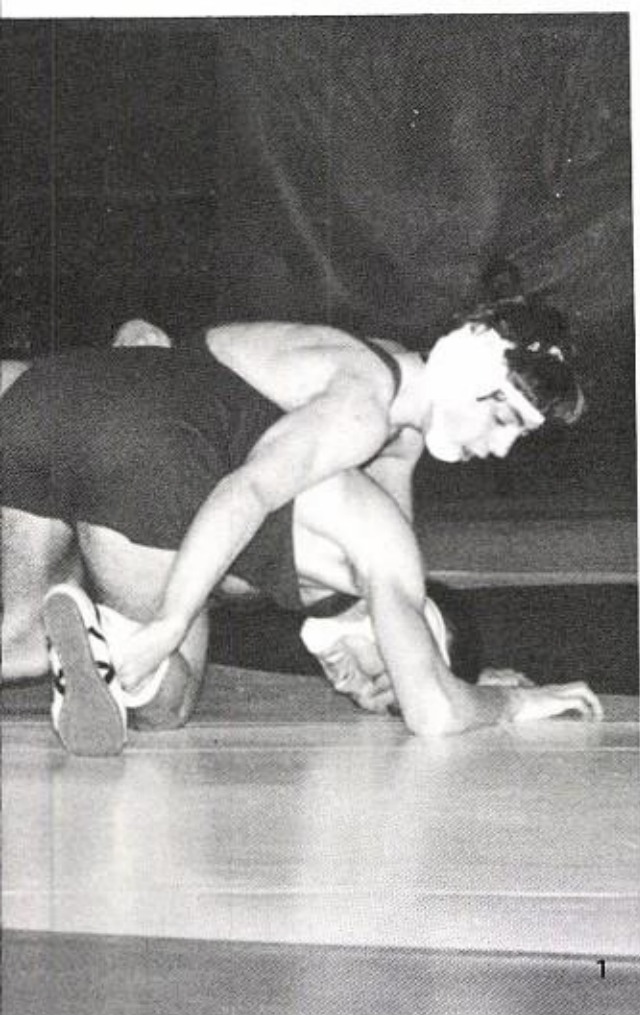

The 1981-82 Wrestling Team finished this past season with the finest record of any wrestling team in Carolina's history, and they deserved every bit of the glory.

The wrestlers started this record season with a surge of consecutive wins that had all the teams in the county hoping that Carolina wasn't on their schedule. The team did not just beat their opponents; they buried them! Truly, the Trojans were something to be feared.

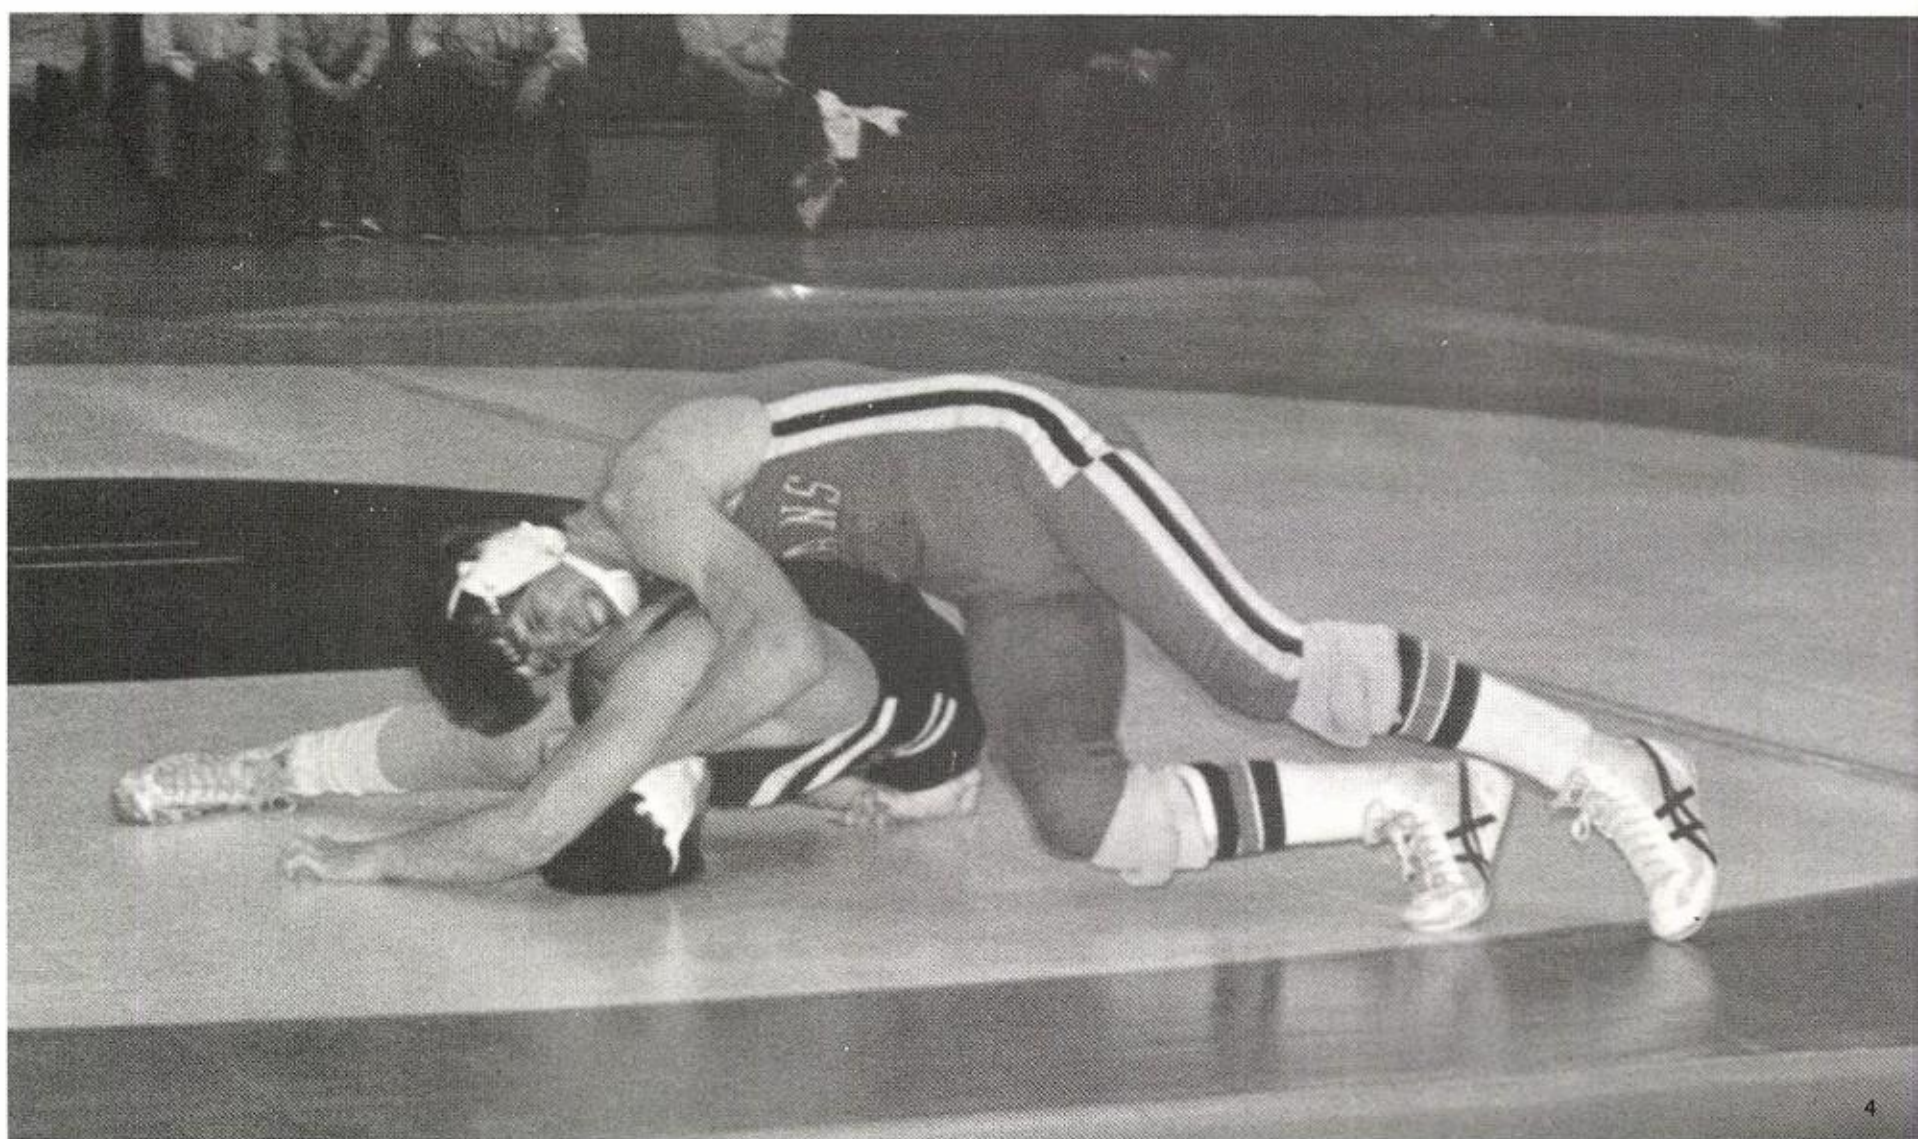

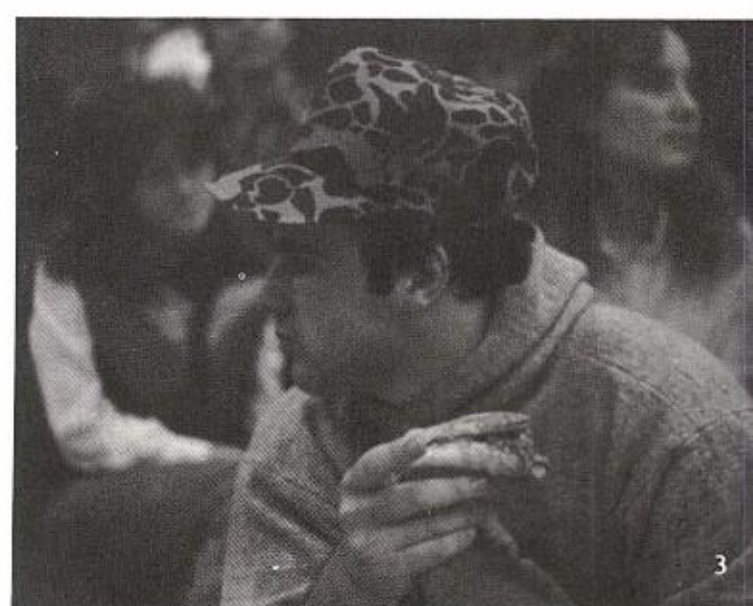

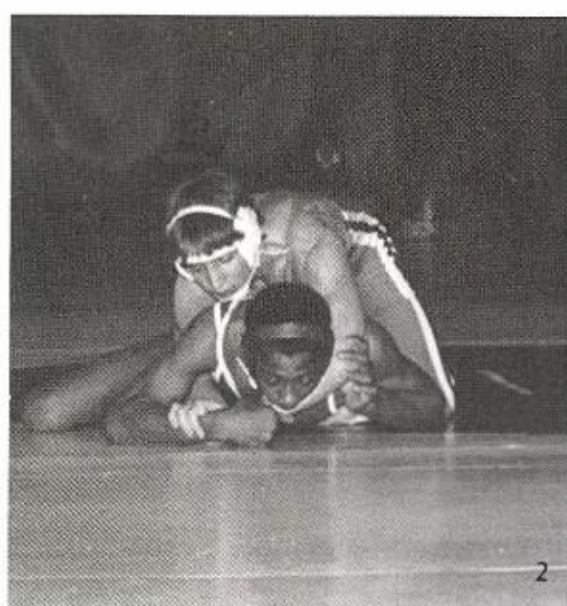

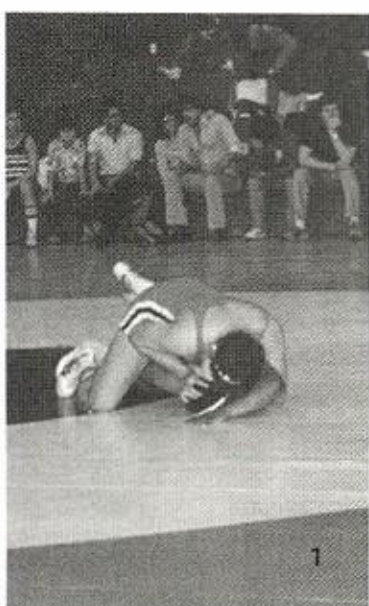

One team that didn't fear the Trojans, though, was the Greer Yellow Jackets; but the way things turned out, they should have feared our Trojans. Carolina played even with Greer until the last match when Ricky McCall beat a Jacket, and Carolina beat Greer.

The Trojans had continued their winning ways, when the big match with conference arch-rival, Berea, came rolling around. The match was filled with excitement, action, and finally disappointment. Even though the Trojans lost, they had lost by only a few points. These few points would cost the team more than they could ever have dreamed.

The final and ultimate challenge for the Trojans was the conference tournament. Under the direction of Coach Phil Turner, the wrestlers were in it until the last match. They missed winning the conference by 4 points, but the wrestlers got their revenge. They played Berea, the conference champ, in a match after the tournament, and they "wore them Dogs out."

“we’ve come a long way, baby!”

Overall experience led this squad to winning blue ribbons, spirit sticks, and the honor of competing with eight of the best varsity squads in South Carolina at a Universal Cheer-leading camp. The week of August 3-9 at USC was spent with some of the best college cheerleaders in the United States.

The squad learned from these professionally trained athletes the very newest and most impressive techniques of pyramids, partner stunts, and cheers. Putting aside all awards given, the greatest reward to the squad was the fans’ approval and interest.

The Carolina Trojans baseball team opened the 1981 season with high expectations of making a third straight appearance in the district playoffs despite having lost six of the nine starters from the previous year. The defending conference II-AAA champions opened the season with two straight wins and hopes grew even stronger for another outstanding year. The Trojans defeated Eastside and Woodmont to open the season before losing a thriller to Parker 4 to 3. After losses to Berea and Greenville and a tie with Palmetto, Carolina won two more games; however, the tempo was set for the season.

The Trojans showed great promise at times during the season with a 12 to 1 win over Palmetto, who eventually won the conference championship, and a 6 to 4 win over Parker, who finished second; however, the Trojans could not play consistently enough to win many close games, as they lost five games by 1 run and on their way to a 7-7-1 record.

Expectations are again high for the 1982 season as the Trojans lost only 2 starters from the 1981 team. Many of the returning players were a part of the last playoff team and still remember the feeling of accomplishment that brings. The hard work and dedication will be there from all involved when practice begins for the 1982 baseball season, and with this hard work and dedication it will not be surprising to see the Carolina Trojans battling it out for the conference championship again.

Along with some other spring sports, good fortune came to the 1981 tennis team. Even though the team had a shakey start, the netters bounced back to gain a 4-2 record in the conference which was good enough to place them third in the conference. This achievement hasn't been reached by the tennis team at Carolina in a long time.

Before the good record was established, a new coach filled the vacant spot for the tennis team. Coach Ray Riey was his name, and making Carolina tennis respectable was his game. As shown by the good record, he succeeded in making the team a valid one. Because of this, Coach Riley was not only honored by his players but by other coaches too.

Another respectable person was Greg Ragan. Through his consistent play and tremendous serve, Greg deservedly played in the number one seed and was selected as an all conference performer. He will be greatly missed in the 1982 season, but four of the top six players will return. With the help of these four players the prospects of the 1982 year look promising.

The 1981 golf team was headed by all-Conference returnee James Brown. The team again, experience-wise, was young. The schedule featured such teams as Woodmont, the defending state AAA Champions, Travelers Rest, state runnerups in AAA, Wade Hampton and other teams within the conference. This year's team will be young again, but with a group willing to devote extra time to practicing, should be very competitive within the conference. Returning this year will be Tim Roper, Tommy Everett, Keith Wilson, and Burt Holder. We are looking forward to a good 1982 season.

carolinian staff . . . doesn't monkey around

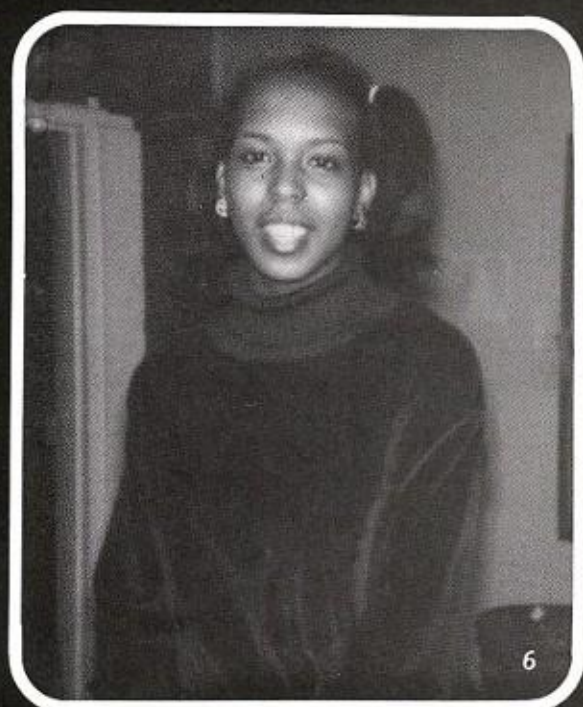

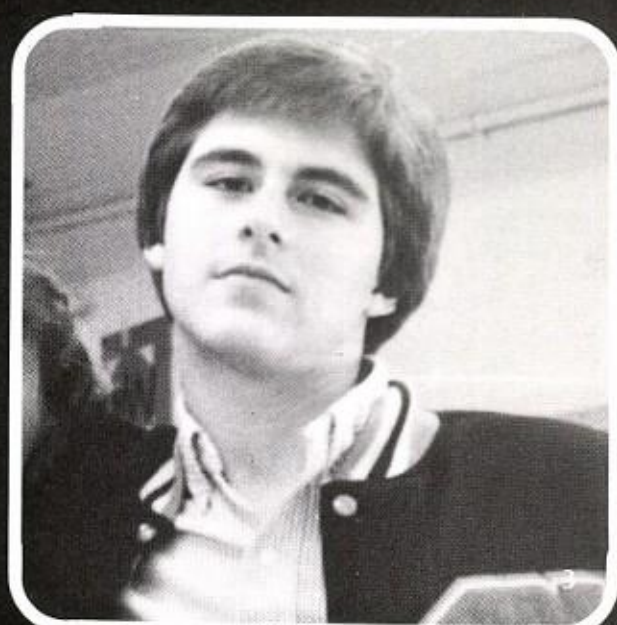

The Carolinian Staff, under the direction of Mrs. Cindy Oliver and Mrs. Nancy Zende worked diligently to complete this year's Carolinian.

Patty Manley, a senior, was helpful to all of the staffers. As editor she made tough decisions and worked hard proofing all material before it was shipped to the printer.

The staff's main goal for the annual this year was to capture, at its best, Carolina's twenty-fifty anniversary. The theme was meant to carry you back through past years at Carolina while comparing the past with CHS today.

After much work and preparation the silver anniversary book was completed.

When asked her overall opinion of CHS and its administrators, former student and senior beauty Debra Smith replied, "It was basically a good school. The majority of the teachers were nice."

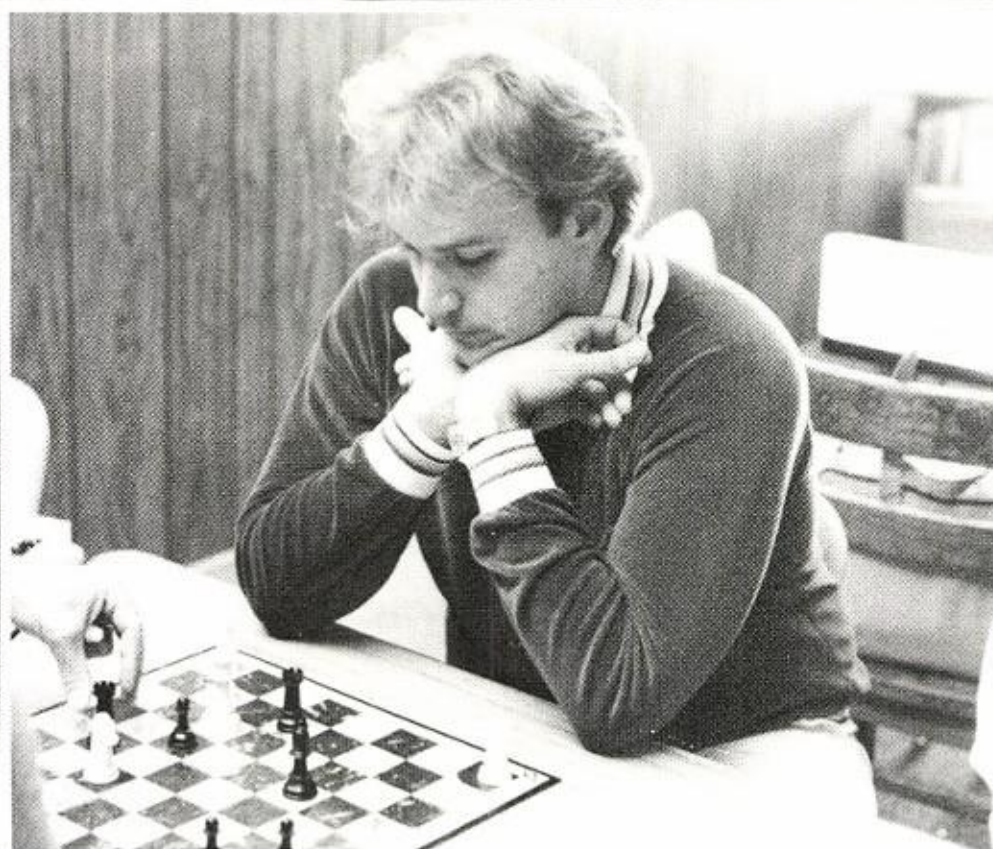

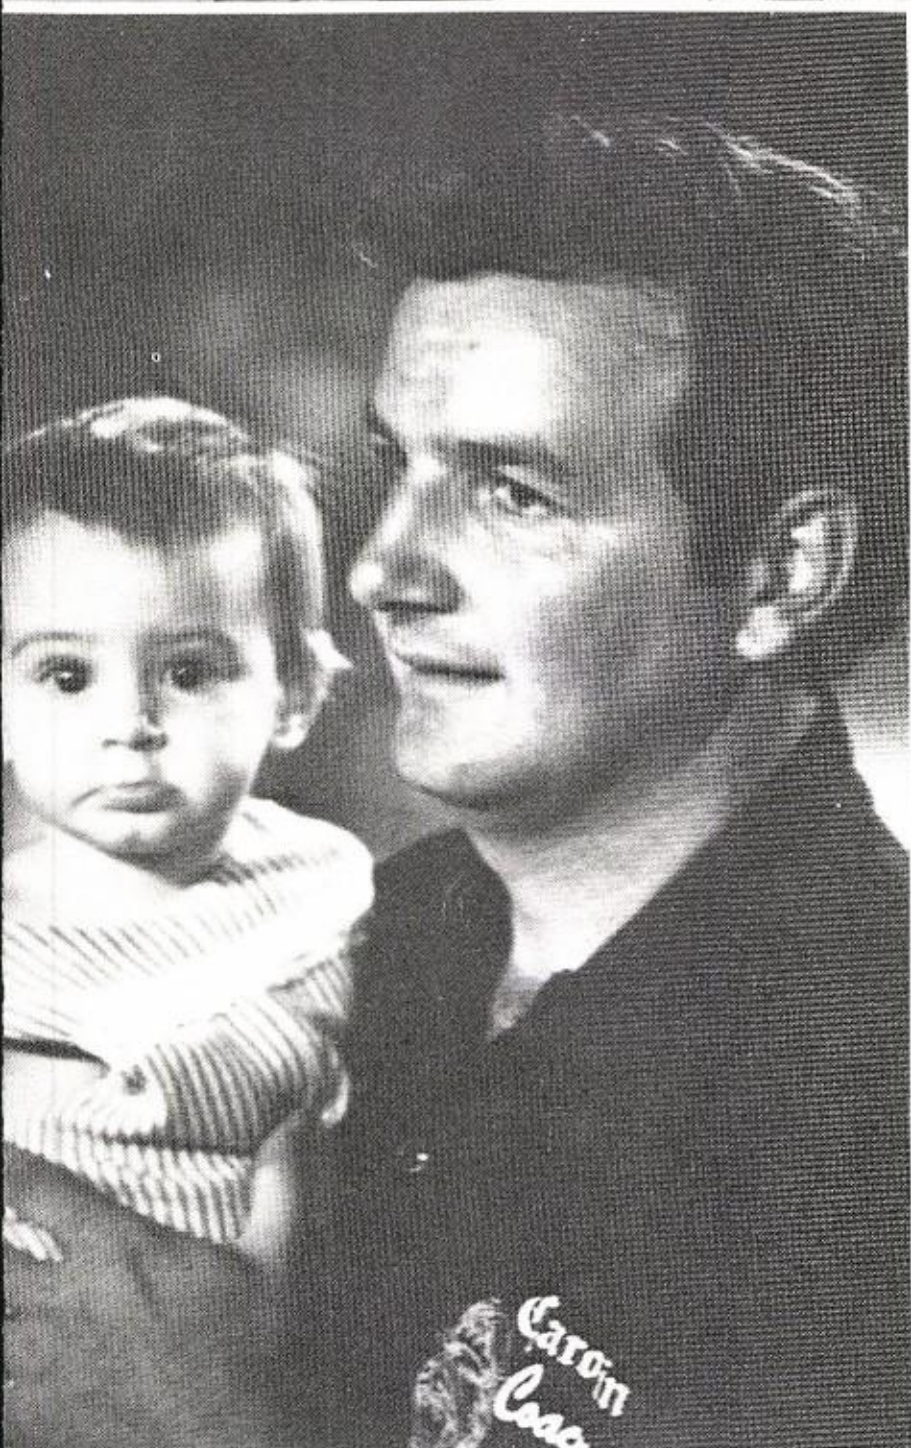

In the years to come we will all think back to these years and remember the good and bad times we experienced.

Each teacher will have a special place in our memories. We'll be forever grateful to those who pushed us to do our best when we didn't think of it as being important. We'll remember the funny habits some of our teachers had. These teachers' attitudes and habits which seemed routine at the time, will become a distinct characteristic for each teacher in our memories.

Whenever we think of our school, we'll not only remember our classmates but the teachers who have greatly affected our lives.

Pep rallies, football games, exams, and school lunches, along with the year we have looked forward to all our lives, has come to an end. We became disappointed after we lost the first pep rally to the sophomores and the next two to the juniors, but found confidence in our spirit as well as ourselves after we defeated the juniors in the annual powderpuff game 20-0.

By the end of the first nine weeks of school, the seniors had spent money on application fees, senior pictures, the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT), and graduation materials. By Christmas we were completely broke. We never thought it would cost so much to be seniors. We have come a long way since we first started at Carolina. As freshmen we looked forward to senior privileges, graduation, and getting out into the real world. Those years are now over, and as seniors, we look forward to our adult years and to what our education can now offer us.

Our high school years are ones to be remembered, and we'll cherish them forever.

The spirited class of 1983 began the year by becoming involved in the daily routine of being a Carolina junior.

Many of the juniors took Ameri-

Although they had an enjoyable year, the juniors look forward to a more exciting senior year.

The sophomore class of 1984 returned to Carolina for their second year, beginning it with a big boom by winning the first pep rally.

The sophomore class was very involved in activities such as the J.V. football team, the J.V. cheerleading squad, and the J.V. basketball team, while others were more interested in joining the Trojan staff, the Annual staff, the Spirit Committee, Student Council, and the Civinettes and the Civitans.

Their involvement and enthusiasm in school activities shows that they have true Trojan spirit.

Changing classes, fighting for a place in line at lunch, and studying for exams were some of the things freshmen learned to cope with.

They were unusually active in the band, majorettes and rifles, JV cheerleading, JV football, C-team basketball, and Student Council.

Carolina should benefit from the class of '85's high level of involvement, spirit, and achievement.

In 1957 class beauties were selected and judged in much the same way that they are now. The classes voted on three girls to represent them, and then one girl was chosen as class beauty by a very special person. Perry Como chose Miss Clara Pittman as the senior beauty, Miss Gail Mills as the junior beauty, Miss Eva Garren as the sophomore beauty, and Miss Linda Page as the freshman beauty.

Homecoming was much different in 1957. The homecoming contestants were chosen as sponsors by the senior members of the football team. The girls then collected money throughout homecoming week, a penny for each vote. The girl with the most votes was then crowned as "football queen" at the "alumni" game.

judging in the first degree

Class beauties were chosen during November 1981 by the students of CHS. Five girls were elected in each class, with the exception of the freshmen class where six girls were selected. The girls were photographed by Mr. David McDonald at Jay-Mac Studios. The photographs were then sent to Ft. Payne, Alabama, where one girl from each class was selected as the class beauty.

The Alabama Band, admired by many at CHS, selected the class beauties. The group, famous for such songs as "Feels so Right" and "Love in the First Degree" was in concert at Greenville Memorial auditorium on January 8, 1982. The band commented that choosing the class beauties was not an easy task, but certainly an honor, for all the girls were very pretty.

Spirit week, with dress-up day, cowboy day, hat and tacky day, jersey day, and school colors day, kicked off the 1981 Homecoming Celebration. Many activities throughout the week of October 12-16 combined to commemorate Carolina High School's silver anniversary.

Clubs and organizations worked very hard on creating homecoming floats for a competition judged by the Homecoming Committee. The floats created by Student Council, the Varsity Cheerleaders, and the senior class won awards.

A pep rally was held on Friday morning in the gym. Enthusiasm and spirit grew as the cheerleaders cheered, the band played, and the homecoming contestants were introduced. The juniors won the spirit competition, and almost everyone sang the "Alma Mater."

The theme for homecoming night was "Silver Memories," honoring the twenty-fifth anniversary of CHS. Highlighting the evening was the crowning of Miss Patty Manley, a senior, as Homecoming Queen. Her attendants were Miss Regina Norton and Miss Vanessa Dickey. The senior class chose seven girls to represent them on the homecoming court. The remaining girls each sponsored a senior football player. The queen and her attendants were selected by the entire football team.

In honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary former homecoming queens were invited to return to CHS for this special night. Fifteen of the twenty-five queens came, and a reception in their honor was given before the football game. The former queens were also recognized on the football field before the game.

A dance for the alumni was given by the Homecoming Committee after the game. Many graduates attended and enjoyed the reunion with former classmates.

The Homecoming Committee worked extremely hard to make this night very special for everyone. Through the hard work and commitment of this committee, Homecoming 1981 will long be remembered.

2. The 1980 Homecoming Queen, Miss Suzi Green, enjoys her last night as the current queen.

crowning of a queen

The 1981 Miss Carolina Pageant was climaxed by the crowning of Traci Weaver as Miss Carolina. The talented junior, a dance student for fourteen years, danced her way to the crown to the tune of "Mr. Bigshot." She also impressed the judges by modeling a lovely pink dress and white hat in the casual wear competition, and a rose-pink off-the-shoulder evening gown with a rhinestone-spangled drape in the formal wear competition. First runner-up was Kelli Israel, who sang the Bette Midler favorite "My Mother's Eyes." Teresa Trammell, who performed a splendidly choreographed toe ballet dance to "Overture" from the musical Oklahoma, received the Second Runner-Up and the Grand Talent award. The contestants in the pageant selected Carol Crowe as Miss Congeniality. The Non-Finalist Talent Award was given to La-Shella Griffin, who recited the dramatic monologue "Ego Trippin'."

stardust memories

"Stardust Memories" was the theme for the 1981 Junior-Senior Prom. Held on May 9 at the Shrine Club, the prom was a very special night for those who attended. Point of View provided the music. Highlighting the prom was the crowning of Kay Perry as Prom Queen, and Shari Huffman and Kelli Israel as attendants.

a time for us

The Graduation ceremony for the Class of 1981 was held at the Memorial Auditorium on June 1, 1981. Valedictorian was Julie Teal, who presented a speech centered around the theme "A Time For Us." Lisa Marler, salutatorian, also presented a speech. Lisa Rickard provided music, and Sandra Pitts closed the ceremony with prayer.

Graduation night was a very special time for the Class of 1981 because everyone was awarded a diploma for the twelve long years of hard work. This night also marked the beginning of a new life; a life of marriage, a life of a new job, or a life of higher education. Wherever the future leads the graduates of 1981, their memories of Carolina High School will live forever.

1. Lisa Marler, Salutatorian, presents her speech to the attentive graduates.

special people at CHS

Patti Nelson was awarded the title of Miss CHS by the faculty of Carolina. She was selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, responsibility and quality of character. Patti was active in such clubs as the National Honor Society, the cheerleading squad, the prom committee, and the Civinettes.

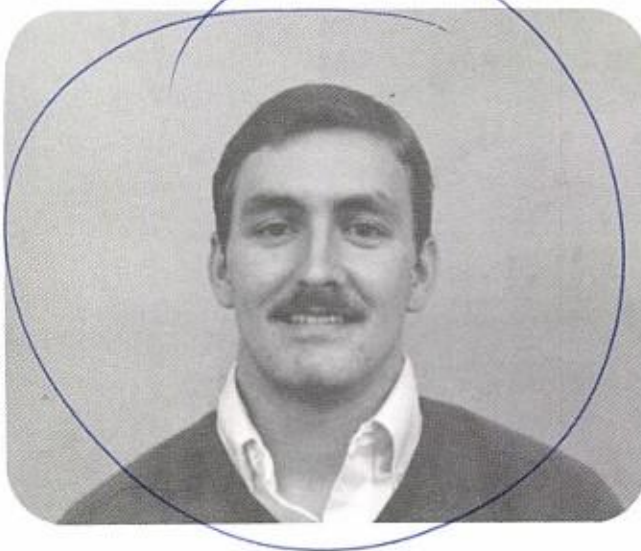

Patty also added a spirited atmosphere to the school during the Christmas season by being selected as Miss Merry Christmas.

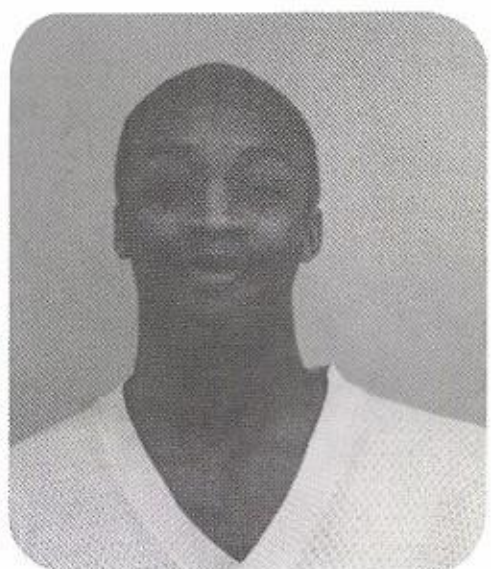

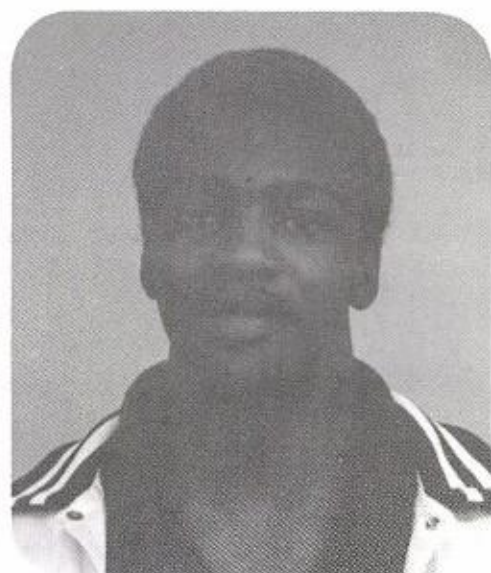

The Furman University Scholars were determined by the PSAT scores, and may be eligible for scholarships to Furman. The Furman Scholars this year were Edward Frazier and Teresa Powell.

Coach's Choice for the 1981 football was Barry Tatum and Dwayne Walker. These two played a vital part in the success of the football team and will be missed greatly next year.

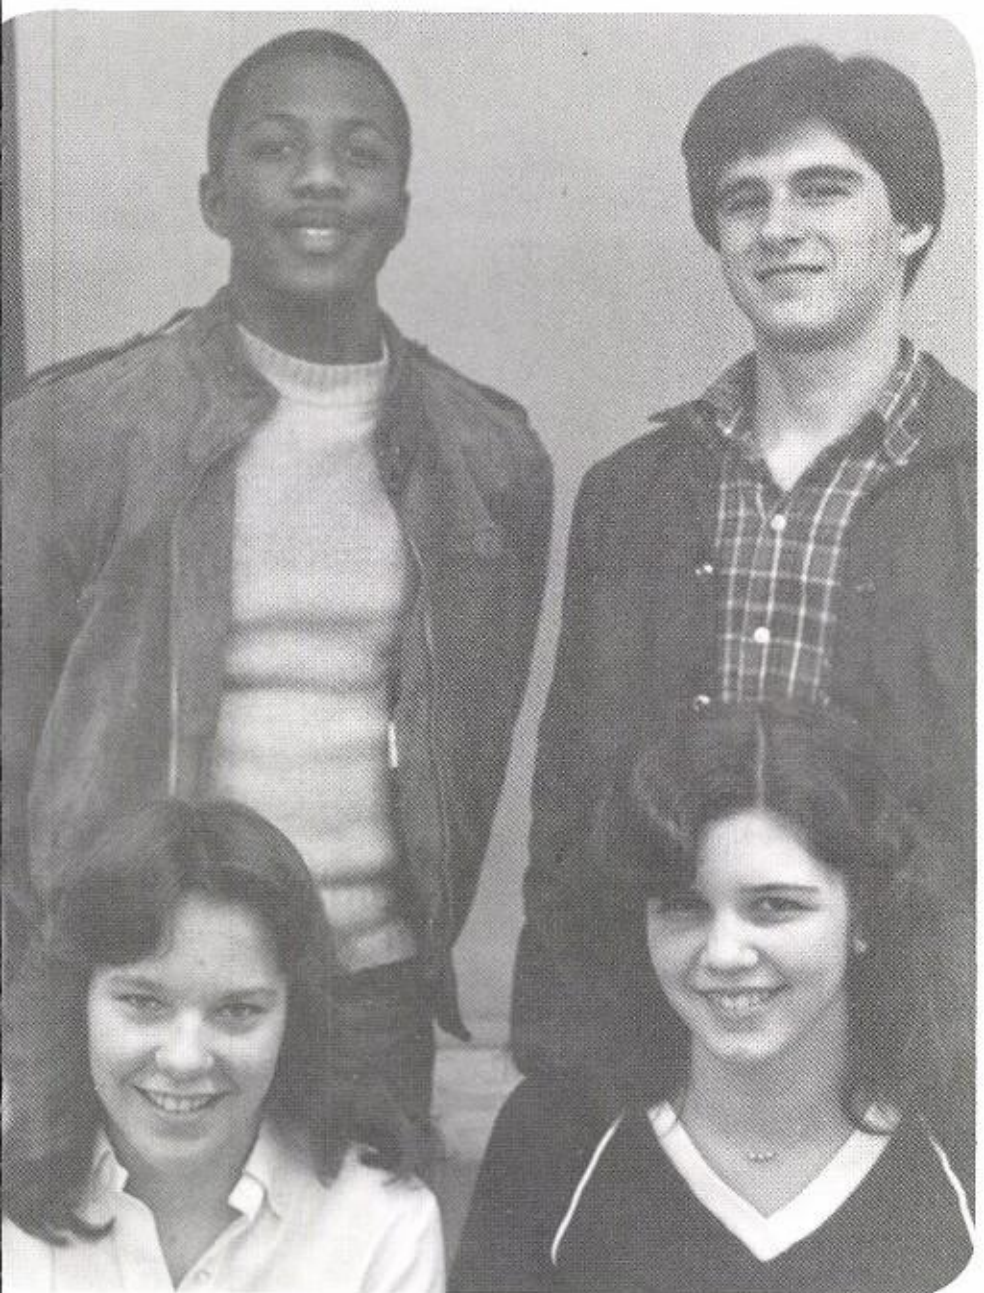

Choosing one person as Coach's Choice for the 1982 Varsity Basketball Team was virtually impossible for Coach Tony Poole. Seniors Donnie Mann, Terrun Smith, and John Bailey were his top three.

Veronica Wharton was Coach Betty Moore's choice player on the 1982 Girls' Basketball team. Veronica led the conference in scoring and proved to be a great asset to the team.

The Baptist College of Charleston offered scholarships to juniors who scored high on the PSAT. The Baptist College Scholars this year were Bradley Hill, Kenney Owens, Laura Fisher, and Donna Davis.

Donna,
It's been great knowing such a sweet person as you. Take care of yourself. Thanks for your friendship.

Love Ya.
Barry John

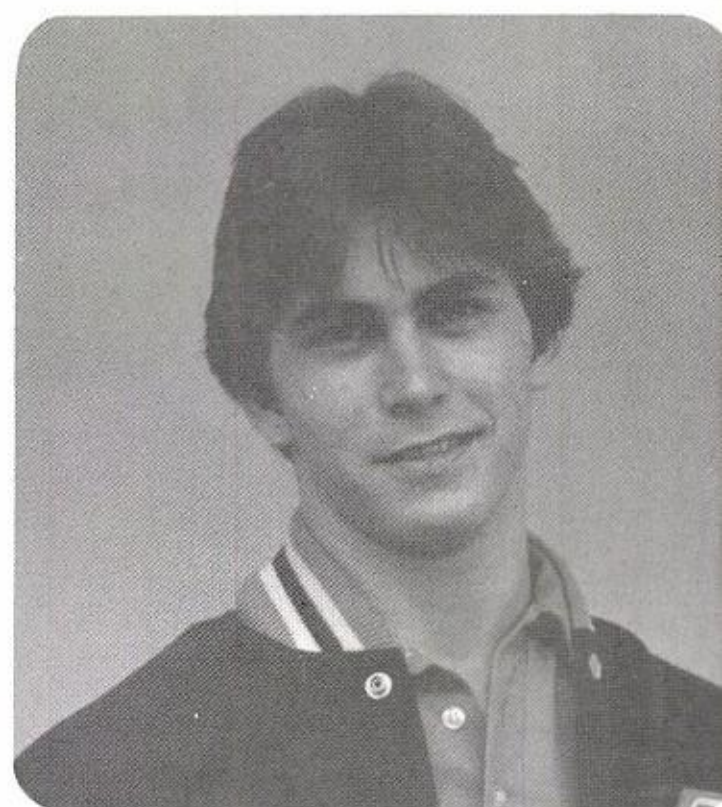

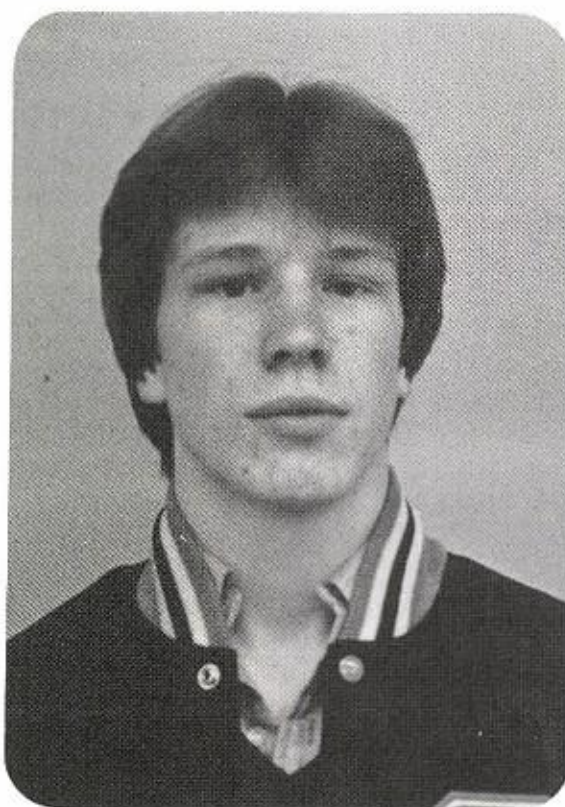

Coach Lester Erwin chose Scott Pittman as Coach's Choice for the 1981 baseball team.

Greg Ragan was selected by Coach Ray Riley as Coach's Choice for the 1981 tennis team.

Coach Phil Turner's choice for the 1982 wrestling team was David Caraway and Gregg Barfield.

Kim Miles was selected by Coach Betty Moore as Coach's choice for the 1981 volleyball team.

Jewell James Estes, class of 1970, was a member of the first Civinette club at Carolina in 1967.

Mr. Cecil Edwards, who taught history, and Mr. Mickey Long originated the club, and with the help of the faculty, twelve girls were selected to make up the first club.

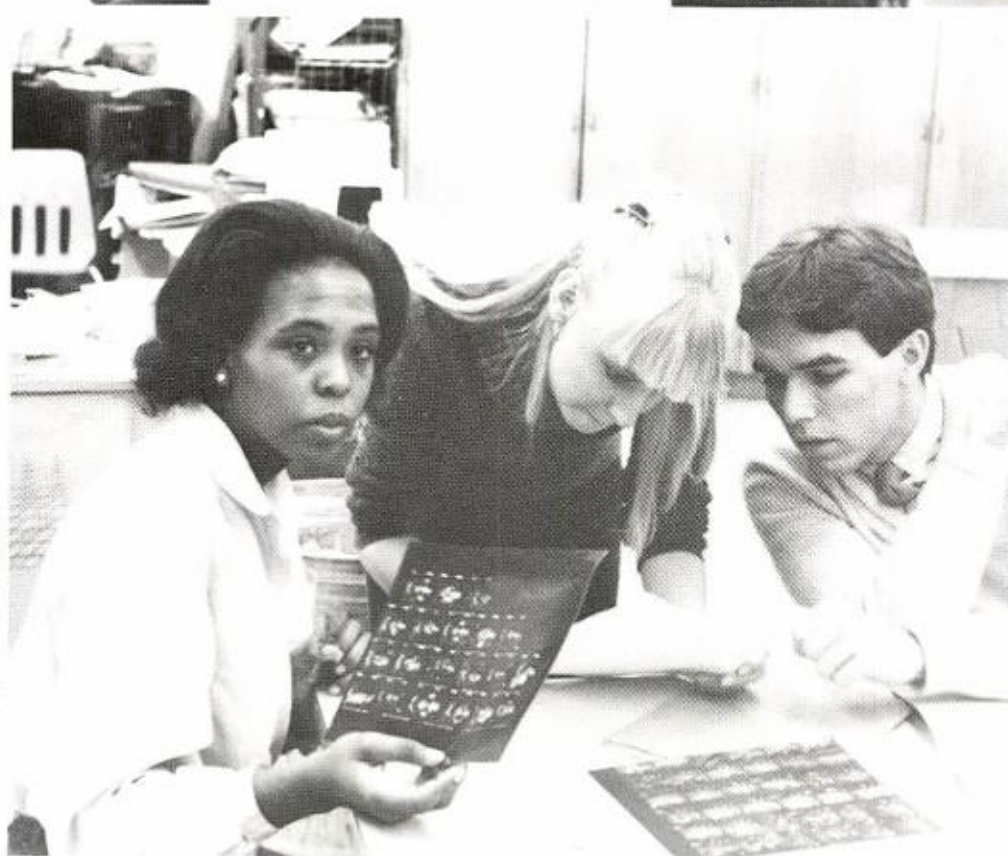

Activity-wise the year began slowly, but by spring the pace had picked up. The year was highlighted by a trip to a Civitan convention in Myrtle Beach. Jewell recalls being afraid to ride the roller coaster. Mr. Long reassured her and even rode along with her the first time, but she remembers being terrified despite his coaxing.

There were no "old members" to initiate Jewell and her eleven co-members. The next year, however, the twelve veterans each took a new girl and thus began the well-known Civinette initiation rites.

In the years since Jewell James Estes first became a Civinette, the organization has grown in activities and service for the school and community.

Executive Council

Representative Council

Student Council has worked hard this year to promote a spirit of unity and enthusiasm here at Carolina. As the year progressed a feeling of togetherness manifested itself within individual groups and between classes. Such a feeling was due partly to the many activities sponsored by the Student Council.

The Spirit Committee sponsored several projects to try to promote spirit among classes. Friendly class competition was encouraged with projects such as the spirit chain contest.

"Students of the Month" were also recognized regularly. These students were chosen by their classmates for superb character, spirit, and citizenship.

The Projects Committee sponsored activities which helped not only students, but also people in our community. Among these were "The Blood Bank" and the food boxes for two needy families at Thanksgiving.

In February, Student Council hosted Inter-High Council at Carolina.

Student Council experienced a very productive year, and their hopes are that everyone enjoyed the 81-82 school year. Getting involved in Student Council was a good learning experience and a lot of fun.

our band . . . marching pride

The '81-'82 Orange and Blue Brigade accomplished many goals this year. Among these were performances in Christmas parades around Greenville County and capturing third place in the Fountain Inn parade.

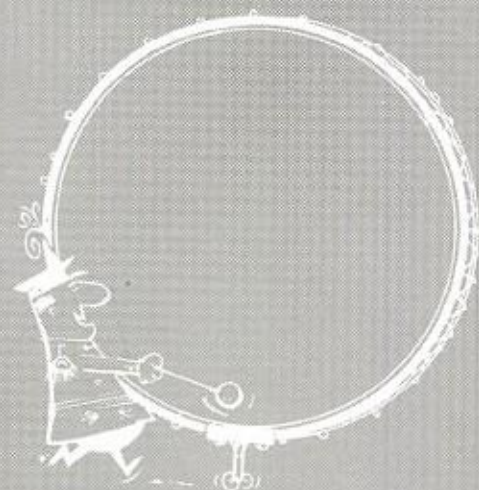

The band consisted mostly of freshmen and sophomores of whom we can expect great things next year. Although small in size, they provided exciting half-time activities.

trojan staff . . . in the news

25 TROJAN

The Trojan took on a whole new look during the 1981-82 school year. In addition to a new staff, the organization also took Mrs. Scripture as its new advisor.

The paper, which was printed at least once a month, not only reported news and happenings, but also the positive and negative views of Carolina students.

Receiving an elective unit for the first time was also an incentive to make the paper better than ever.

Because of the improvement of the Trojan, sales and circulation increased, while the price did not.

Goals that the Trojan staff set were to represent and include all Carolina students and for the Trojan to become a self-supported organization, existing only on its own sales.

Yearbook staffers take a closer look at the community every autumn when they start looking for ads.

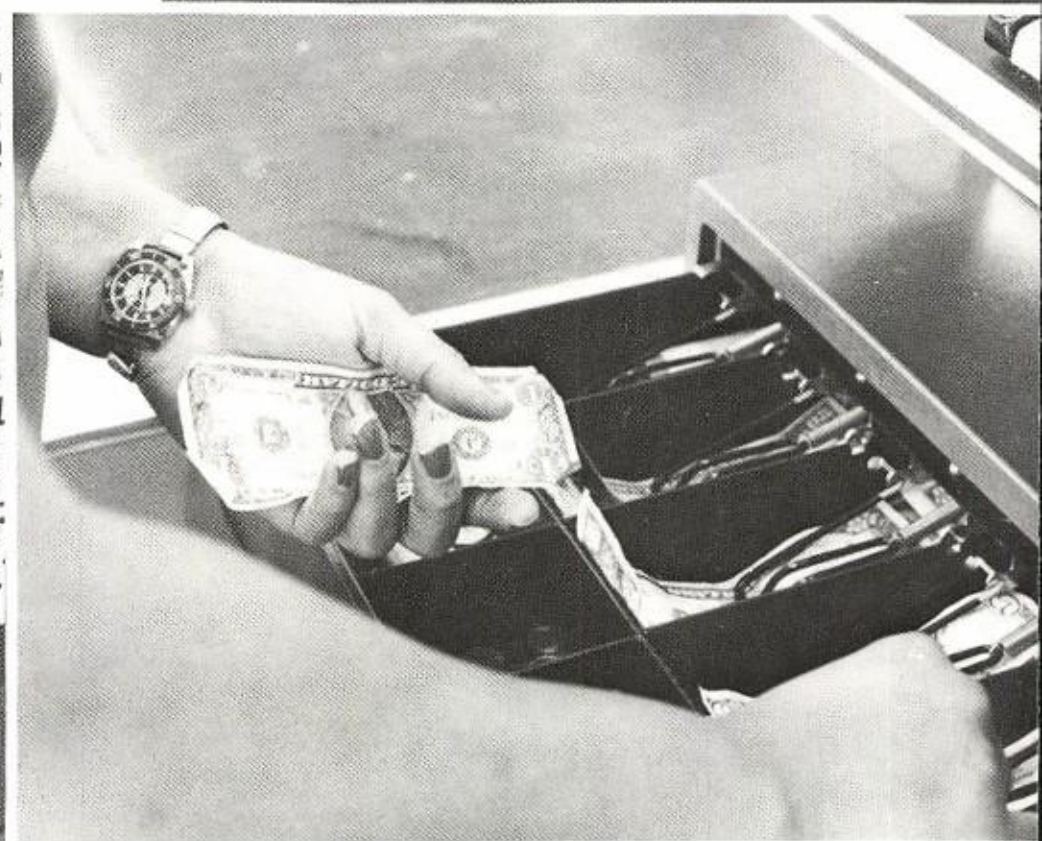

It is a time of frustrations and successes, of disappointments and surprises.

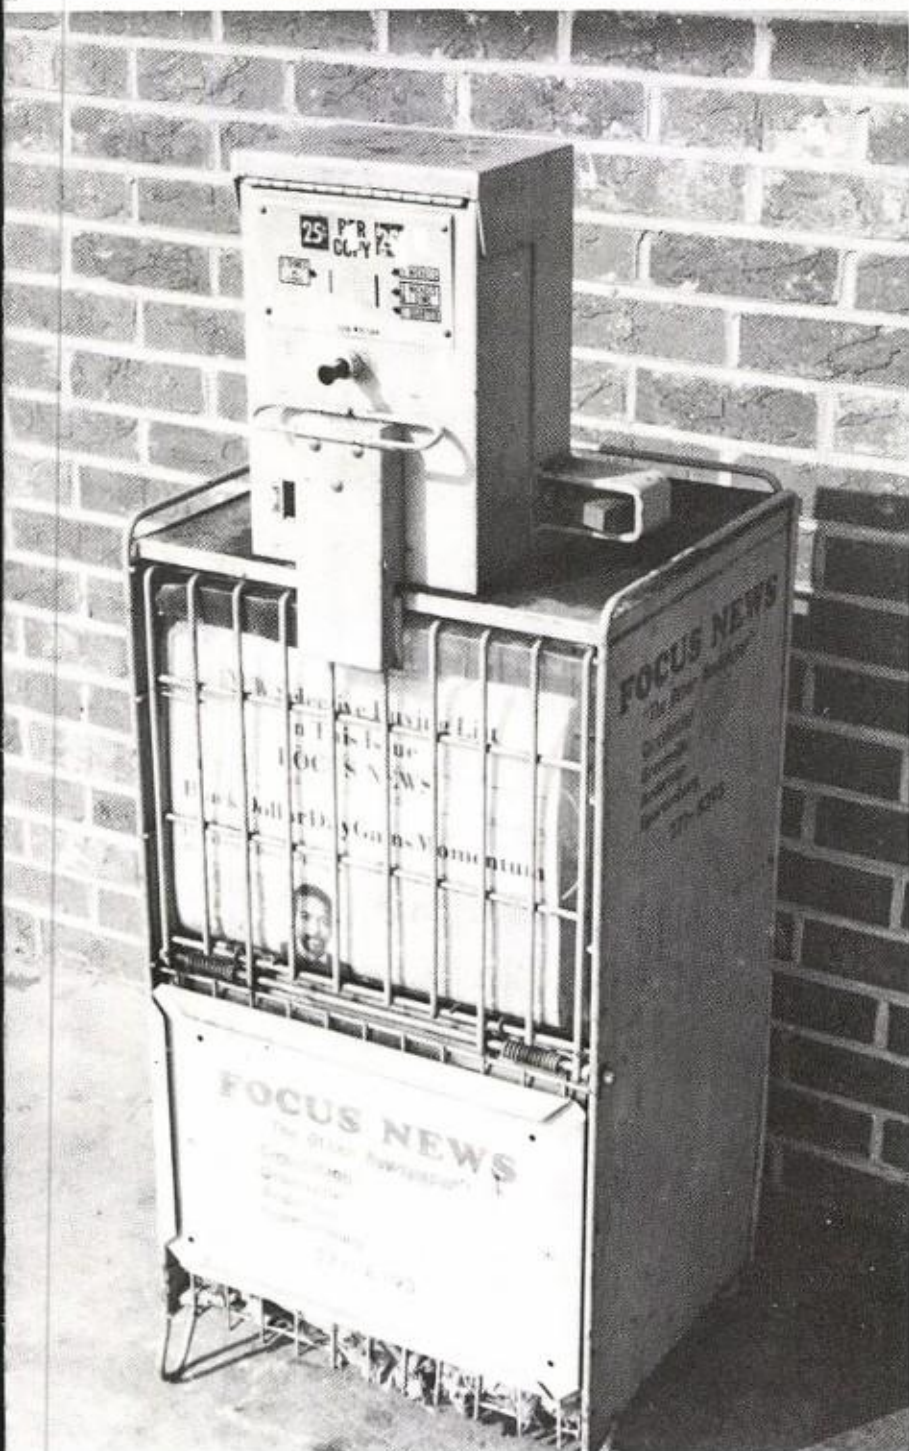

Part of the financing of the book must come from the sale of ads, and the yearbook staff who wants to do a good job braves the executives in the real world.

Yearbook staffers make this one plea to students and their families: whenever it is possible, support our advertisers.

One business that has supported Carolina greatly during the past twenty-five years is Cely Construction Company. They advertised in our first yearbook. Mr. Cely said, "We advertise with Carolina because we are within the same community. Also, fifty percent of our employees attended Carolina."

Support is essential to any success. Without it, campaigns regardless of the cause, could not be won. Carolina is fortunate in having a community so involved with its demands and concerns.

Reserved For Tammie L.

Pook,

What can I say, this has been ^(good) a great ^{year} ~~year~~. We've been through so much, and I feel as if I've always had you as a close friend, but last year we were enemies. You know its funny, how things change. I hope we will always be as close as we are now. I want us to keep in touch over the summer and the years to come. We're not that far away from each other, so you had better come and see me and call if you don't have away. Pook I want us to always be friends, and if you ever get to need someone I want you to know that I will always be there. ~~I'm~~ I'm glad we got over that last year, it ^{was} ~~was~~ was just one of those childish things. But like I said before we've forgotten all of that, and now you're my best friend, next to Jim (Haha)!! I want me and you and Jim and Ken to all go to the lake this summer and have a party!! I don't want us to just drift away and see each other only by chance. I trammell's body shop want us to stay close, maybe closer than we are now. So come and see me, keep in touch please!! You're like a sister to me and I don't want you to forget about me. So Don't!!

A Parable of Immortality

"I am standing upon the sea-shore. A ship at my side spreads her sails to the morning breeze and starts for the blue ocean. She is an object of beauty and strength and I stand and watch until at last she hangs like a speck of white cloud just where the sea and sky come down to mingle with each other. Then someone at my side says, "There she goes!" Gone where? Gone from my sight . . . that is all. She is just as large in mast and hull and spar as she was when she left my side and just as able to bear her load of living freight to the place of destination. Her diminished size is in me, not in her. And just at the moment when someone at my side says, "There she goes!" there are other eyes watching her coming and other voices ready to take up the shout, "There she comes!"

— Henry Van Dyke

Mr. William A. Dilling was an important part of Carolina High School's faculty. He had been at Carolina High School twenty-two years and imparted to many a student his knowledge to use and to share with others. Most faculty members will remember the generous and practical advice that Mr. Dilling freely gave on a variety of subjects from landscaping to automobiles.

Many students have said Mr. Dilling had a subtle sense of humor. He shared jokes with students, and students shared jokes with him. These moments often enlivened the atmosphere of his classroom.

Because of his experience with math, algebra, and even computers, he taught many students the importance and practicality of being good in math. He was an excellent teacher and a great friend.

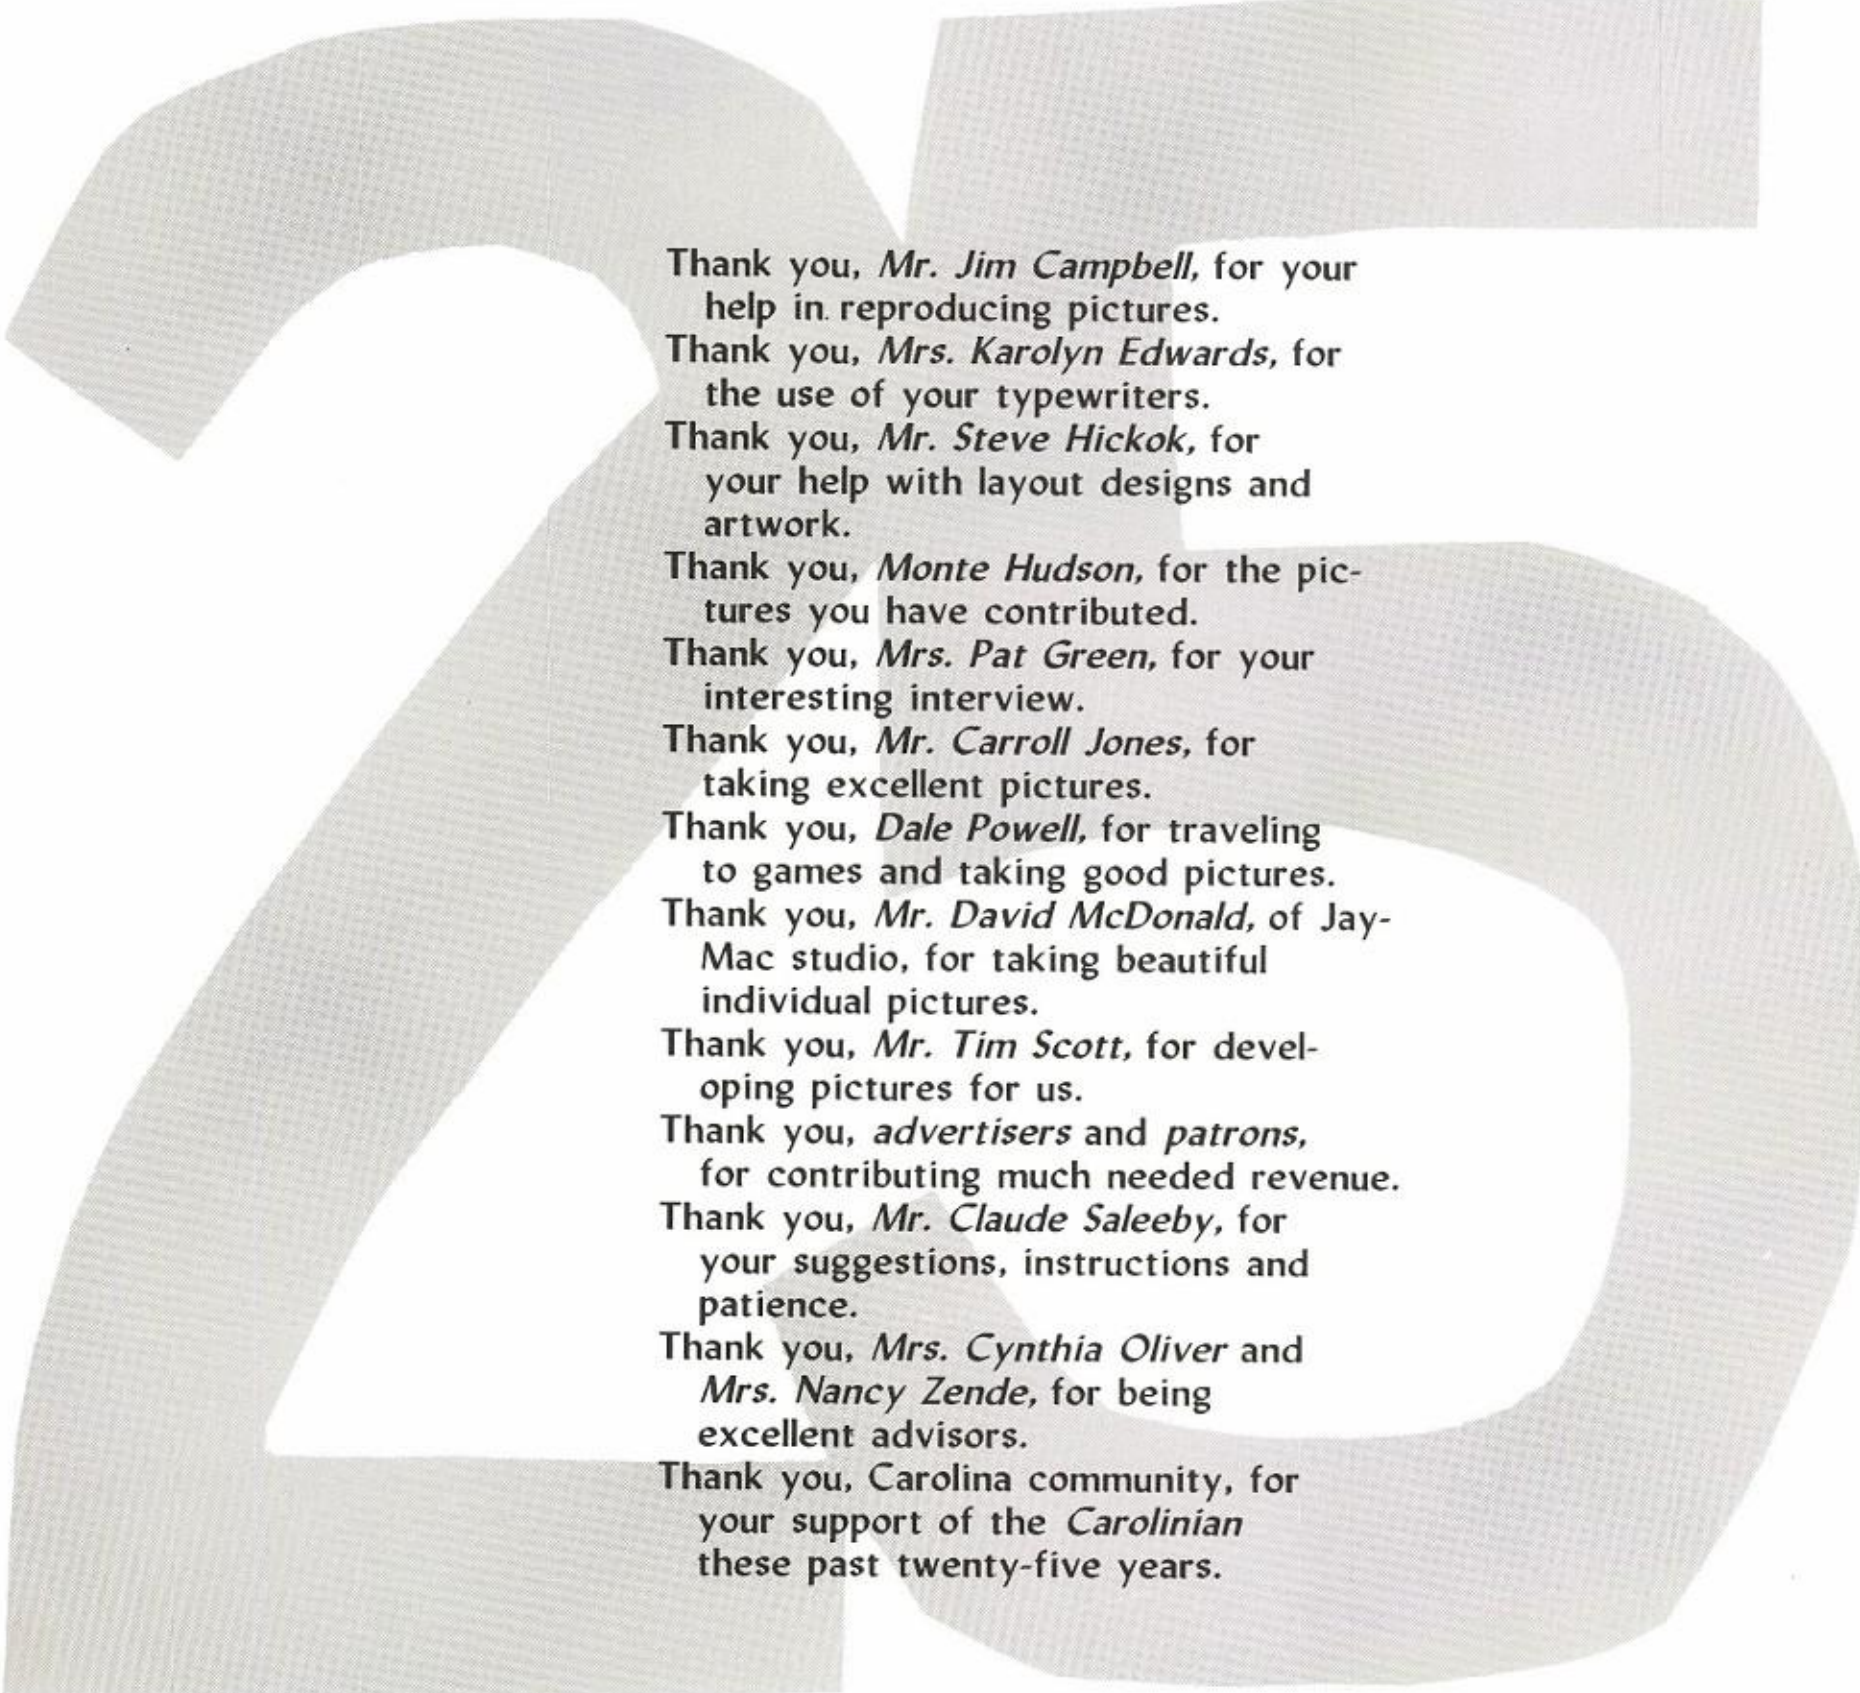

The faculty and students of Carolina High School will always admire Mr. William Dilling as a man among men.

Mrs. Jean Robbins is a name that many Carolina students remember. Mrs. Robbins was a business teacher at Carolina from 1956-1980.

Mrs. Robbins was not only a great teacher but a great friend to many students. Her devotion to her job earned her the respect with which we all remember her. She was a person who was willing to give an "extra ounce". She taught her students how to work and how to enjoy work.

The Carolinian remembers Mrs. Robbins in a special way this year. Before her retirement Mrs. Robbins was the annual advisor and therefore has a special link to C.H.S. She worked together with students to produce many yearbooks — yearbooks for students who wanted to remember Carolina. Because of her hard work, and devotion toward her students, those who remember C.H.S. will also remember Mrs. Jean Robbins.

Thank you, Mr. Jim Campbell, for your help in reproducing pictures.
Thank you, Mrs. Karolyn Edwards, for the use of your typewriters.
Thank you, Mr. Steve Hickok, for your help with layout designs and artwork.
Thank you, Monte Hudson, for the pictures you have contributed.
Thank you, Mrs. Pat Green, for your interesting interview.
Thank you, Mr. Carroll Jones, for taking excellent pictures.
Thank you, Dale Powell, for traveling to games and taking good pictures.
Thank you, Mr. David McDonald, of Jay-Mac studio, for taking beautiful individual pictures.
Thank you, Mr. Tim Scott, for developing pictures for us.
Thank you, advertisers and patrons, for contributing much needed revenue.
Thank you, Mr. Claude Saleeby, for your suggestions, instructions and patience.
Thank you, Mrs. Cynthia Oliver and Mrs. Nancy Zende, for being excellent advisors.
Thank you, Carolina community, for your support of the Carolinian these past twenty-five years.

Donna,
It's been a wild year. It's been fun getting to know
you. This year in Math class too had your learning do and luck in whatever you and don't have a nice summer
